

JUDGE THOMPSON IS FIFTH MEMBER

Appointment by Governor Dunne
Completes the Public Utilities Commission

TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

Withdrawal of Local Man from Circuit
Bench Will Take Effect Today—
Will Call Special Election

BODY WILL MEET TWICE A MONTH

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Jan. 2.—With the appointment, by Governor Dunne today, of Judge Owen P. Thompson of Jacksonville as a member of the public utilities commission, the new board, which is vested with far-reaching powers in the regulation of public utilities of the state, was completed. The commission consists of:

James E. Quan, Democrat, Chicago, chairman.
Owen P. Thompson, Democrat, Jacksonville.
Walter A. Shaw, Democrat, Chicago.
Richard Yates, Republican, Springfield.

Frank H. Funk, Progressive, Bloomington.

Following announcement of the appointment of Judge Thompson, which came as a distinct surprise to nearly every one about the state house, Governor Dunne expressed satisfaction that he had been able to obtain such a high class body of men.

Is Well Balanced Commission.
"It is a well balanced commission," the governor declared. "I am greatly pleased with its personnel and believe the men I have selected will give that full measure of public service."

The governor added that the appointment of Judge Thompson who is a staunch Bryan man, was made without political considerations aside from the fact that Judge Thompson is a Democrat.

Judge Thompson expressed regret that it would be necessary for him to leave the bench but declared that he felt he could be of greater service to the people of the state in his new position. He has tendered his resignation as judge of the circuit court in the seventh judicial circuit, effective tomorrow.

This was done in order to dispose of a number of motions for new trials at Jacksonville tomorrow. For sixteen years Judge Thompson has been on the circuit bench and for two years on the appellate bench of the fourth district.

The new commission spent most of the day in sessions, going over matters which have been before the railroad and warehouse commission for some time familiarizing themselves with public utility commission law and in conference with Governor Dunne.

To Meet Twice a Month.

Chairman Quan announced the first official order, calling for meetings in Springfield on the first and third Tuesdays of each month, also two regular meetings at Chicago each month, the first to be held Thursday, January 8, when Chicago business pending before the old railroad and warehouse commission will be taken up. It was also announced that a Chicago office of the commission would be maintained where all complaints from Chicago and vicinity could be made.

Several cases are to be considered at the Springfield meeting next Tuesday, among them being the gas rate controversy from this city over which there has been much litigation. The city authorities are trying to force the utilities company to reduce the gas rates from $1 to eighty cents. The new commission also issued an order for all utilities in the state including those in Chicago, to file a schedule of rates before February 1.

The election of a secretary, attorney and engineer of the new commission is expected to be disposed of within the next few days.

Chairman Quan stated that employees of the railroad and warehouse commission would hold over with civil service preferences.

The state grain inspection department will be unaffected by the new law, temporarily at least.

Discuss Anti-Pass Provision.

The anti-pass provision in the new statute was one of the first matters to be discussed by the commission. The governor believes the new law absolutely prohibits all public officials from accepting a gratuity from a public utility corporation and the commission shares his views. An official opinion from the attorney general will probably be asked for regarding this and other sections of the act.

At the meeting in Chicago next Tuesday, Alfred Erickson, of the Wisconsin public utilities commission, is expected to be present and assist the Illinois commission in mapping out its work. Owing to the resignation of Judge Thompson from the circuit bench, the governor must call a special election for the selection of his successor in this, the seventh circuit, comprising the counties of Sangamon, Macoupin, Morgan, Scott, Greene and Jersey.

WILSON AND LIND HOLD SECRET CONFERENCE

PRESIDENT DENIES INFORMATION TO THE NEWSPAPERS

Chief Executive and Envoy are in Consultation Aboard Cruiser for Three Hours—Is Pursued by Correspondents in Chartered Tug.

PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss., Jan. 2.—President Wilson left here late today in a launch for the Revenue Cutter Winona which was lying half a mile from shore waiting to take him to sea for his conference with John Lind who is on board the Cruiser Chester.

The Chester has been lying off shore since last night, efforts to keep her movements secret having been frustrated by wireless news of her location. To keep Mr. Lind from coming ashore, the president went to him. He made the Winona in a launch and on the Winona went to the Chester in mid-gulf. He was pursued by newspaper correspondents in a chartered tug. For nearly three hours after he had boarded the Chester the president remained in consultation with Mr. Lind in the cabin of the Scout Cruiser. Thereafter President Wilson returned to Gulfport, from which point he motored here.

Information as to what the president learned from Mr. Lind and what action he proposed taking as the result of the conference were denied to the newspaper men by President Wilson.

Solely for Consultation.

Washington, Jan. 2.—So far as the officials in the state department know, the meeting today of President Wilson and his personal representative in Mexico, John Lind, was arranged solely for the purpose of consultation and to afford Mr. Lind an opportunity to personally report his views and impressions.

It is assumed that the American envoy has acquired much information during his six months stay in the City of Mexico and Vera Cruz beyond that which he has included in his written and cabled reports. Without attracting attention and sometimes without escort he has made various excursions into the interior of the country and has been in conference with Mexicans of all shades of opinion. The weight of opinion here is that the conference will mark the development by the president of another step in the policy he has laid down in regard to the treatment of the Mexican question.

General Bliss in command of the American forces on the Mexican border reported to Secretary Garrison today that the refugees whom he recently had disarmed and forced to return to Mexico were not in danger of their lives and therefore not entitled to claim an asylum in the United States.

SUIT-CASE THOUGHT TO CONTAIN VALUABLE BONDS IS STOLEN

Bloomington Man States Story Is Exaggerated and That Papers Are Worthless to Anyone But Himself.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—A suit-case containing bonds valued at $100,000 was stolen today in the Union station from Paul Beich of Bloomington, Ill. It is thought by a one-eyed man, Beich, who is a candy manufacturer left the suit-case in charge of his son, Otto C. Beich, 21 years old, while he purchased railroad tickets. The young man missed the suit case and at the same moment noticed that a one-eyed man who had been sitting beside him had left the station.

Young Beich described the man as about 23 years old and fairly well dressed. He could not say which arm was missing. The elder Beich was unable to remain to take part in the search as he was obliged to board a train to attend a bank directors' meeting in Bloomington.

Contents of Litter Value.

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 2.—Paul F. Beich arrived here this evening from Chicago. Mr. Beich said the story of his robbery was much exaggerated. He asserted that the suit case contained only a few papers of value to himself, but worthless to anyone else.

LOWER EXPRESS RATES WILL BECOME EFFECTIVE NEXT MONTH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Lower express rates throughout the country will become effective one month from today. By the terms of the recent inter-state commerce commission order, not only will the rates be reduced materially but the companies will comply with legislations for improved methods of service.

Experts of the commission and the companies estimate that the average reduction in charges will be approximately seventeen per cent. One official of a large express company informed the commission that the holiday business for 1913 was 25 per cent less than it was in 1912. He attributed the loss to the parcel post.

REPORTS SALES OF STOCK.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Sales of Southern Pacific railroad stock once held by the Union Pacific amounted during the month of December to about 2,000 shares. The department of justice by the Central Trust company of New York appointed by the courts under the recent supreme court decree to dispose of the stock.

COMPANIES PREPARE TO LEAVE MISSOURI

THREE LUMBER CONCERNS WILL OPEN OFFICES IN E. ST. LOUIS

Were Ousted By Missouri Supreme Court and Fined $110,000 for Alleged Violation of the Auto Trust
Law—Others May Follow Plan.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—Three lumber companies that were ousted from the state by the Missouri supreme court on December 24, and fined a total of $110,000 for alleged violations of the anti-trust law, today prepared to close their St. Louis office and re-open in East St. Louis, Ill. Rumors that other companies would take a similar policy, rather than pay the fines levied by the supreme court were rife. It is understood that if the companies take all their assets out of the state the fines levied by the Missouri supreme court cannot be collected.

The three companies that today were dismantling their offices are the Chicago Lumber & Coal company, the Bradley Lumber company and the Colonial Lumber & Timber company.

Under the rules of the supreme court the twenty-five companies that were ousted, conditionally or otherwise, can file a motion for re-hearing not later than tomorrow night. This motion acts automatically as a stay of execution.

Ten companies already have filed motions for a re-hearing among them the three companies that today were making preparations for a quick removal to the Illinois side. Additional motions for a rehearing are expected to be filed tomorrow.

COUPLE TAKES STEPS TO TEST WISCONSIN EUGENICS LAW

Action Is Begun When County Clerk
Refuses License Because Intended
Groom Did Not Have Physician's Certificate.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 2.—Steps were today taken to bring a test suit to determine the constitutionality of the eugenics law, which requires male persons to present a doctor's certificate showing a clean bill of health.

The law went into effect today and Alfred Peterson and Hattie J. Schmidt, each 29 years old, were the first to seek a license. They were accompanied by an attorney, fused them a permit because the intended bridegroom did not have a physician's statement of pure health, action was begun.

Peterson and his attorney began a search of a doctor who would examine him for $3, the price prescribed by law. This probably will fail because the Milwaukee physicians have agreed that they cannot give the required tests for that amount. They said they would give superficial examination but Clerk Widule demands that the Wasserman tests be made.

Peterson and his lawyer had not found a doctor who would agree to the clerk's requirements up to this evening and they said suit would be started to test the law's constitutionality.

One other couple was refused a license because of lack of a doctor's certificate saying that the man was a fit subject for matrimony under the laws of Wisconsin. The couple said they had not heard of an eugenics law.

AUTOMOBILE BANDITS KIDNAP TWO PITTSBURGH BUSINESS MEN

Ride About City For Two Hours Before Dumping Victims in Street.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 2.—Automobile bandits tonight kidnaped two business men who were on their way home, robbed them and rode them about the city for two hours before dumping them unceremoniously into the street. They were given ten cents a piece for carfare home.

The victims were Charles E. Succop, president of a brewing company and James A. Weldon, president of a plumbing concern. Succop was seized by two masked men who had alighted from a taxi blindfolded and thrown into the car. He was robbed of $60 and his jewelry.

Half an hour after the attack on Succop, Weldon was seized while approaching home, blindfolded and tied with straps. He was relieved of $80 and jewelry. A third man, J. D. Scottsdale, a chauffeur also was robbed. Scottsdale told the police he answered a call and while waiting at a street corner was blindfolded and thrown into the car. Six dollars were taken from him. Policemen found the abandoned taxi-cab two miles from where it was seen last by the victims.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WILL GIVE CHECK FOR $500,000

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 2.—A check for $500,000 will be handed to Cardinal Gibbons next Tuesday as a contribution for the Catholic University at Washington from the Knights of Columbus of the United States. It is proposed to found fifty scholarships for young men studying for the priesthood at the university. The Knights have been working for nearly three years to secure the funds. It is the largest contribution that has been made to the university.

REBELS WAIT FOR MORE AMMUNITION

Fall Back from Ojinaga After Rasping Cannon Fire Into the Federal Army

CHARGES ARE REPULSED

So Far the Losses Have Been Heaviest On Rebel Side, Due to the Federals' Superior Range

ADVANTAGE WITH FEDS AT LAREDO

PRESIDIO, Texas, Jan. 2.—After a rasping cannon fire into the federal army at Ojinaga, Mexico for four days General Ortega's rebel army today fell back, it was reported on the American side, to await the arrival of more ammunition. The ammunition is on the way from Chihuahua.

Almost impregnable position of the 4,000 federals, entrenched in the heights of the village from which they command a sweeping range on the federal army, enabled them to hold out against superior numbers. Each time the rebels charged they were compelled to fall back. Though they were flanked on three sides and the United States border patrol had prepared for a possible retreat of their whole army to American territory, the federals fought persistently.

It appeared that General Ortega's rebels were drawing the federal army merely to exhaust it. The plan of driving out the federal force by skirmishing would be in line with the usual guerrilla tactics of the rebels, who seldom make aggressive charges. So far the losses have been heaviest on the rebel side, due to the federals' superior range. Federal deserters reported that they had fewer than 100 killed, with an unknown number of wounded while the rebel losses would exceed that number.

McNamee Sends Report.

Major McNamee tonight sent a report by telegraph as follows: "Situation unchanged. Intermittent firing day and night by artillery and rifles of both sides. Federals so far have held their own. Federal wounded are being treated by Red Cross. Have arrangements made for caring for sick and wounded. About 1,000 women and children camp followers on other side of river await result of fighting. Immigration officers and Red Cross to take charge of them. Also I am co-operating in lending all possible resistance."

No opposition to the crossing of women and children refugees is to be made if they desire asylum in this country. While firing continued tonight the situation seemed to have resolved itself into a determination by the rebels to await the exhaustion of the federals supply of ammunition.

Advantage With Federals.

Laredo, Texas, Jan. 2.—While the desultory fighting today was indecisive, whatever advantage there was at the end of the second day's battle in the siege of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico seemed with the federal defenders of the town tonight. In the most important engagement today a constitutionalist machine gun detachment of 100 men was dislodged from its position, 1,000 yards from the federal lines and the rebels fled after thirty five of their number had been killed. The number of federals killed was placed at five. Estimates of the wounded were not available.

The main line of the besiegers tonight was unbroken and the government troops held their positions. Rebel leaders were disappointed at the delay in the arrival of artillery reinforcements. They said they would prolong the siege indefinitely and promised a more vigorous attack when the artillery arrives.

Seven constitutionalists were hanged by federals today "as a warning." It also was reported but not confirmed that the federals had put to death wounded constitutionalists left lying on the ground.

Stories Are Exaggerated.

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 2.—Stories of starvation in Sinaloa are grossly exaggerated according to General Jose de la Luz Blanco, who arrived here today enroute to El Paso to undergo a surgical operation. He bore an honorable discharge from the constitutional army signed by General Carranza.

Blanco said the only real suffering was in the outlying districts not yet reached by constitutionalist forces. In the city of Culiacan alone an average of 500 persons, mostly women, children, aged men were being fed daily.

Believes Intervention Inevitable.

London, Jan. 3.—The Spectator in an article today on the Mexican situation says that the pressure of public opinion in all the rest of the world soon will force the United States to intervene in Mexico. The article asserts that President Wilson made a mistake in not assuming that President Huerta would be the strongest force with which to bring about peace in Mexico and in supporting him accordingly, but it adds that it understands perfectly the reasons why Mr. Wilson did not adopt such a course. The Spectator says that joint action by other powers with the United States in Mexico is impossible and that the United States will have to act alone or sacrifice the Monroe doctrine, which

CONDITION VARIES ACCORDING TO LOCALITY

U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ISSUES
SYMPOSIUM ON BUSINESS

States That Any General Statement
As to Manufacturing of Country
Would Be Misleading—Problem of Beef Shortage Will Probably Solve Itself.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—"Any general statement as to condition of manufacturing throughout the United States would at present be both misleading and inaccurate since this condition varies according to the locality and the nature of the product," says a symposium of business conditions issued by the chamber of commerce of the United States and compiled by department of statistics on reports of one day, November 29, 1913, which was taken to be fairly representative.

The great increase in the population of this country and consequently the increased demand for meat as food," the report says, "coming at the same time as the decrease in recent years in the number of cattle and sheep has naturally brought about the present high price of meat. Consequently there has come a wide spread apprehension of the ultimate trend of this tendency.

"A careful study of the facts, however, indicated that it is one of those economic problems that is likely to solve itself, and that the number of cattle in their relation to the number of inhabitants moves rather in a series of cycles than in a straight line. For instance, the number of cattle per one hundred of population is the same now that it was in 1870 and 1900 but we are evidently facing a great change in the cattle raising industry.

"An impartial survey, therefore, of the situation seems to warrant the statement that, while the price of cattle probably will continue high in the future, the various agencies mentioned will gradually work for a more abundant supply and a more reasonable price.

"Throughout the central west, despite the drought, there is a general feeling of hopefulness for the future. This seems to be partly due to the fine prospects of the growing winter wheat and to the hope and belief that many of the serious political and economic questions that have created such disturbances are now in a fair way toward solution."

COMMISSION REPORTS THAT PELLAGRA IS NOT DUE TO CORN

Body Also Concludes That Disease
Is By No Means as Dangerous as the People May Believe.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 2.—Pellagra is not due to corn and the disease is by no means as dangerous as the public may believe are conclusions reported by the Thompson-McAdden commission today to the American association for the advancement of science.

Dr. K. S. Siler of the United States medical corps, senior member of the commission said he believed that "within a year or two the cause of pellagra will have been discovered or the investigation will have gone so far that we can define precautions for preventing its spread."

"The commission," he continued, "believes the disease is due to infection. We have not gone far enough to say what the agent, spreading it really is. Pellagra is not essentially a southern disease. It is found in other parts of the country. Its symptoms appear to become more aggravated in summer because warm weather is more favorable to them. That alone is why it is general in the south."

BREAK IS REPAIRED.

Montreal, Jan. 2.—The break in the intake pipe from the St. Lawrence river which caused a neighborhood water famine here, was temporarily mended today and water forced through the repaired conduit at 7 o'clock tonight. Residents in the famine district began to receive, before mid-night, the first pipe supply of water they have had since Christmas.

WEATHER INDICATIONS AND TEMPERATURES.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Illinois—Generally fair Saturday, except snow in northwest, somewhat colder; Sunday fair and warmer; moderate northwest winds becoming variable Sunday.

Temperatures.

The current, maximum and minimum temperatures recorded up to 8 p. m., Friday were:
Jacksonville	34	33	32
Boston	28	28	16
Buffalo	32	34	24
New York	34	34	29
New Orleans	56	68	44
Chicago	36	37	29
Detroit	32	32	28
Omaha	26	28	26
St. Paul	28	32	28

San Francisco	56	60	52
Winnipeg	10	12	10

It is not likely to do. The article says that it would be rather an easy conquest for the United States but that conquest would be successful by a demand for national independence and accompanied by rebellion.

BAKER WILL FOLLOW ACTION OF MORGAN & CO.

ANNOUNCEMENT ALMOST BRINGS
STOCK TRADING TO HALT

Withdrawal of Morgan & Co. From More Than a Score of Corporations Cuts Strings That Have Held Important Firms Together.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The withdrawal today of J. P. Morgan and company from more than a score of great corporations and the statement shortly afterwards by George F. Baker, an almost equally dominant figure in American finance, that soon he would take similar action gave Wall street generally a thrill which almost brought trading on the stock exchange to a halt.

While it is probably true that many of the prominent bankers had information foreshadowing this move toward ending interlocking directorates, the public and brokers had no advance knowledge of what was taking place in the inner councils of the greatest of all American houses of finance. Wherever telephone and ticker flashed the news about the street groups of men gathered to discuss what was the all-absorbing topic. Mr. Morgan, departing from his firm's traditional policy of silence, made a public statement announcing the withdrawal of five members of J. P. Morgan and company from directorships in twenty-seven corporations and the intention to withdraw from more.

Mr. Morgan's Statement.
"An apparent change in public sentiment in regard to directorships seems now to warrant us in seeking to resign from some of these connections," he said. "Indeed it may be in view of the change in sentiment upon the subject, that we shall be in a better position to serve such properties and their security holders, if we are not directors. We have already resigned from the companies mentioned and we expect from time to time to withdraw from other boards upon which we feel there is no special obligation to remain."

Withdrawing from these corporations, J. P. Morgan & Co., have cut the strings that have held together many of the country's most important corporations in a community of interests which has been assailed within and without congress. One of the members of the firm said that Morgan & Co. had been careful to observe the spirit as well as the letter of the law and that the decision of the firm was primarily a matter of business.

Mr. Baker announced his intention to withdraw in response to a question whether he intended to follow the example of the Morgan firm.

"I intend to get out as a director of all the companies that will let me," he said. "As a matter of fact, I have been beginning to do so for the last two years."

The connections between Mr. Baker and the Morgan firm, and especially with the late J. P. Morgan were generally regarded as being so close that it is believed their common decision regarding withdrawals from interlocking directorates was released as the result of concerted action. There was no evidence that any general agreement had been reached among other leading financiers of Wall street.

J. P. Morgan, Sr., at his death was a director in fifty-nine corporations, including many of the foremost railroad and industrial companies of the country and several of the largest banking institutions and to these directorships his son succeeded.

His partners are directors in many more corporations and the firm, for years the dominant banking institution of the United States has been financial sponsor for a considerable number of them. In the organization of several, including the United States Steel corporation the International Harvester company and the International Mercantile Marine company, J. P. Morgan and company took the foremost part and it was instrumental in the reorganization of others, notably the Erie and Southern railroad.

Untermyer Makes Statement.

Samuel Untermyer counsel for the Pujo committee said he regretted that the announced list of withdrawals did not "include the more important interlocking directorates in the financial district held by the Morgan firm such as those in the First National and National City banks."

It appears also," he said, "that some of the partners resign from the board of active management, and that nothing very substantial has been as yet accomplished in the way of vindicating the principle for which the advocates of corporate reform have been contending."

"But the promise held out is encouraging. It doubtless will come in time."

In connection with Mr. Untermyer's statement it was suggested that the reason the Morgan partners had not withdrawn from the boards of the national banks commonly referred to as Morgan institutions was that the matter was being held in abeyance pending the interpretation of the new banking and currency law.

ENDEAVOR FUGITIVE HER BANDS

Washington, Jan. 2.—Twenty fugitive husbands who found the matrimonial yoke too burdensome were indicted here today by the federal grand jury and under an existing law will be extradited and brought back for trial. One was located in the Hawaiian Islands.

MORE HOPEFUL OF SETTLING STRIKE

Solicitor Densmore Holds Conferences with Representatives of Conflicting Interests

APPLICATIONS FOR WORK

One Manager in Keweenaw County States
Enough Had Applied to Warrant Belief
Operations Will Be Resumed Monday

DEPARTMENT ORDERS INVESTIGATION

HOUGHTON, Mich., Jan. 2.—Peace negotiations in the copper situation halted and swayed today. Following report of an important communication from union sources early in the day there was a series of conferences between John B. Densmore of the department of labor and representatives of the conflicting interests. At the end of them Mr. Densmore said he still had hope of finding a way out of the district's difficulties and added that his hopes were higher than twenty hours before.

While this was supposedly the last day on which the companies were willing to receive back any of their striking employees there was manifest no disposition to force this aspect of affairs. Some applications for work in the Keweenaw county mines were received, one manager saying that enough had reached him to warrant a belief that he might resume operations on Monday. As the northernmost mines on the peninsula have undergone the most effective part of the strike, this development was regarded in company circles as encouraging. The representation of the governing body of union labor is to be increased tomorrow by the arrival of John Mitchell, whose term as vice president of the organization expired Dec. 31. Announcement that his coming was expected was made at the local federation headquarters tonight.

Orders Investigation.

Washington, Jan. 2.—The department of justice ordered an investigation of the recent sudden trip of Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners from the Calumet copper mining district. Senator Martine of New Jersey has held that this incident was nothing less than forcible abduction, prompted and paid for by the mine owners. The department telegraphed Edward J. Bowman assistant to the district attorney at Grand Rapids, Mich., to make a thorough inquiry into the affair and to report his findings fully to Washington. Mr. Bowman probably will be named acting district attorney by United States District Judge J. W. Sessions, to fill the place temporarily made vacant by the removal of Fred C. Wetmore the district attorney.

Moyer Has Restless Day.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners passed a restless day today in the hospital where he is recovering from the pistol wound and bruises inflicted on him when he was expelled from Calumet. The date when the injured labor leader will be able to resume activity is uncertain. Moyer talked during the afternoon with John Mitchell and Clarence Darrow but was unable to announce his plans. He said that he would endeavor to prepare a statement tomorrow forenoon.

Demand Federal Intervention.

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 2.—Unless the federal government intervenes in the copper country strike the Western Federation men in the Michigan iron fields will lay down their tools according to the terms of resolutions adopted today by the Negaunee and Ishpeming unions of the organization. A he resolutions declare the deportation of Moyer, the Italian hall panic disorder, the arrest of the editors and publishers of the Flun newspaper Tyomies and the killing of strikers, show that "there is no longer safety for life and property in the copper country."

They further charge that men in the copper country have been assaulted and thrown out of the post-offices when they had entered them to get mail and that "blackhand" letters have been sent through the mails to the strikers. They assert that the sheriff's office has been blind to their wrongs and that the state government has failed to give redress.

VISCOUNT STEALS PURSE THAT HE MIGHT GET FOOD AND SHELTER

PARIS, Jan. 2.—Viscount Charles Eugerand de Marigny, scion of an old French family, penniless and starving, today snatched a pocket-book from a woman in the street, that, he explained to the police he might be sent to prison where he would at least be given food and shelter. The viscount's father once was wealthy, but lost all in a bank failure.

Viscount de Marigny served with the French cavalry forces in the Moroccan campaign and was awarded a medal. Recently he was discharged from the army, his term of service having expired. He spent all of his savings, he said, vainly seeking employment.

The police commissary complied with the request of de Marigny and sent him to jail.

SPRINGFIELD TO VOTE ON LOCAL OPTION ISSUE

Petition Is Being Circulated, Which Must Have More Than 2,000 Voters and Filed By February 6.

A petition is being circulated in Springfield for a vote on the local option question in the spring. James H. Danskin of this city is taking a great interest in the campaign and the people realize that the woman's vote will decide in a great measure whether the city will line up in the "dry" column. The Springfield Register in speaking of the fight says:

Several hundred names were secured to the local option petition, put in circulation Wednesday. Inquiry failed to reveal the organization which is in direct charge of the campaign for the abolition of the dram shop in the spring, although temperance believers were positive in their declarations that the saloon is going to be given "a run for its money."

Danskin Talks of Work.
James H. Danskin, district superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, with headquarters in this city, declares that it is not his intention or desire to dominate the campaign, and that the work of prosecuting the plans will be done entirely by the head committee. "These men are serious-minded citizens of Springfield," said Superintendent Danskin in discussing the question. They will proceed with caution and with good judgment. It is not the policy of the League to "butt in" but to be ready to assist in any way possible. I am extremely glad to see the activity of the leading citizens in the campaign. I think Springfield has a chance to be rid of the saloons, but the other faction will fight to the bitter end."

Much Depends on Woman's Vote.
The woman's vote is the consideration that turned the tide in favor of a campaign in the spring. Recently citizens and even members of the Ministerial Association expressed the belief that the time was not ripe for a campaign, but the fear of defeat has been overcome and now many who had "cold feet" in the first place are coming into the fold.

As a prevention of possible legal entanglements each worker is circulating two petitions, one for the county clerk and one for the election commission. This is to get around the trouble that might arise as to the question of where the petitions should be filed. The leaders are determined that nothing shall sidetrack them after the fight has been inaugurated.

2,000 Signers Necessary.
In order to make the petition valid it will be necessary to secure more than 2,000 signers, or 25 per cent of the total number of votes cast for mayor at the last municipal election. It is the opinion of anti-saloon headquarters that it is not essential that a signer be a registered voter, but merely entitled to vote in the spring. The fact that many women who are legal voters under the new suffrage law but not registered was the reason for this expression of opinion. The petitions must be filed on or before Friday, Feb. 6.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
Interest allowed on Savings. Deposits at rate of 3 per cent per annum. Savings Deposits received on or before JANUARY 10th will bear interest from the FIRST of the month.

BONDS WILL BE AD TO U. S. POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS.
None But Depositors Will Be Allowed to Purchase Bonds—Are Exempt from Taxation.

The announcement that postal savings bonds, which were ordered issued today by the postal authorities in connection with the postal savings department, will be exempt from all national, state and municipal taxes is expected to cause a big demand for the certificates. Lack of advertisement has so far left the general public ignorant of the nature of the bonds and that fact has caused but few inquiries at the local post office. When the full nature of the new arrangements are made known the post offices of the country are expected to be besieged by applicants for bonds.

Under the regulations laid down by the authorities, none but depositors in the postal savings department will be allowed to purchase bonds. Such an arrangement will increase the number of patrons of the savings department as the bonds are among the best securities available.

They will be issued in denominations from $20 to $500 and will pay 2½ per cent interest. While postal savings are limited to $500 for each depositor, there is no limit on the amount of postal savings bonds which may be acquired by one depositor.

The new bonds are to be issued in two forms, registered and coupon. Registered bonds are all recorded in the United States offices with the names of the holders, and are payable to the person whose name appears on them. Their ownership can be transferred only by assignment so there is no danger from theft. On the other hand the coupon bonds are made payable to the bearer.

All the bonds are negotiable securities and may be transferred.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 2.—While he held three men, one of them a policeman, covered with a revolver, a robber ransacked the safe in a jewelry store in the eastern part of the city tonight. He made his escape with $150 in cash and $1,500 worth of diamonds and other jewelry.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES OF UTILITY COMMISSION

Some Facts Relative to Officers of New State Board and Their Powers and Privileges.

In view of the appointment of Judge Owen P. Thompson, on the Utility Commission, thus completing the membership of the new state board, some facts relative to the appointment of a counsel, additional officers and employees, term of service, salaries and expenses may be of interest.

In speaking relative to these points the new law says: "The commission shall appoint as counsel to the commission an attorney-at-law of the State of Illinois who shall hold office at the pleasure of the commission. The counsel to the commission shall have power subject to the approval of the commission to appoint and at pleasure remove attorneys-at-law to assist him in the performance of his duties."

Additional Officers.
"The commission shall have power upon consultation with and the advice of the governor, to appoint and employ such additional officers and such accountants, engineers, experts, inspectors, clerks, and employees as it may deem to be necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act, or to perform the duties and exercise the powers conferred by law upon the commission. Such appointments, other than those of attorneys, chief engineer, chief accountant, one private secretary or stenographer to each commissioner, experts temporarily employed and other positions which may be exempted by the civil service commission, shall be included in the classified civil service of the state, and shall be made subject to the provisions of an Act entitled, 'An Act to regulate the civil service of the State of Illinois,' approved May 11, 1905 on force July 1, 1905 and acts amendatory thereto."

Salaries and Expenses.

"The annual salary of each commissioner shall be ten thousand dollars. The annual salary of the secretary to the commission shall be five thousand dollars. The annual salary of the counsel to the commission shall be six thousand dollars. All officers, accountants, engineers, clerks, inspectors, experts and employees of the commission shall receive the compensation fixed by the commission, subject to the approval of the governor. The commissioners and their officers, accountants, engineers, clerks, inspectors, experts and other employees, shall have reimbursed to them all actual and necessary traveling and other expenses and disbursements necessarily incurred or made by them in the discharge of their official duties. The commission may also incur necessary expenses for office furniture, stationery, printing and other incidental expenses. Said salaries and expenses shall be paid out of moneys appropriated for the commission, only upon the order of the Chairman of the commission, approved by the Governor."

BETHEL LODGE OF CHAPIN
HOLDS ANNUAL ROLL CALL

Odd Fellows Observe Event With Oyster Supper and Program of Addresses and Music.

Bethel Lodge N. 45, I. O. O. F., held its annual roll call Friday evening at the Odd Fellow's hall in Chapin, with an attendance of over seventy-five visitors and members of the lodge. The roll was called by the secretary, Walter Bobbitt and a number of addresses were made by various members of the lodge, after which an oyster supper and social hour were enjoyed. Letters were read from a number of the lodge members from a distance who could not be present. The committee in charge of the refreshments was composed of Walter Hall, L. C. Brownlow and Elmer Johnson.

The addresses were full of wit and reminiscence and expressed a hopeful outlook for the future of the order in Chapin. Those who spoke were P. D. Hutton, the money Frederick Raylis, Harry Sentney, Winfield Brownlow, Daniel Hamilton and H. J. Mangrum. H. J. Mangrum favored the Odd Fellows and friends with a vocal solo. He was accompanied on the piano by his brother, Jesse Mangrum.

Bethel lodge has a membership at present of sixty-three, of which number there were eight added during the past year. It is among the older lodges of the state having received its charter over fifty years ago. The absent members sending letters to be read last evening were T. R. Biggers of Crystal City, Tex., W. S. Riggman of Maroa, Ill., C. H. Dahmen of Golden, W. R. Moody of Jacksonville, George Brownlow of Decatur, Herbert Quinn of Carnegie, Okla., and Roy Craven of Beardstown.

The officers of Bethel Lodge No. 49, I. O. O. F., are as follows:
N. G.—Walter Hall.
V. G.—L. C. Brownlow.
Secretary—Walter Bobbitt.
Chaplain—Winfield Brownlow.
Warden—Harry Sentney.

ENORMOUS INCREASE IN

AUTOMOBILE FATALITIES
New York, Jan. 2.—Statistics made public today show that automobiles killed almost as many persons in this city during the year just ended as they killed in the two preceding years.

The 1913 figures reveal that 392 persons were killed by automobiles, in 1911 and 1912 combined there were 363 deaths from this cause. In December the fatalities numbered 25.

The Best of the Coffee Crop

You certainly have heard about Roberts Coffees the brands that have real cup quality. People are talking about these coffees because the six blends satisfy coffee lovers and are sold at saving prices.

Blend No. 1—Represents the Genuine Old Maud-heling Java and Arabian Mocha perfectly blended together and sold at 45c pound

Blend No. 2—Is the most pleasing flavor and is the greatest strength that is possible to produce for the price—our price 40c pound

Blend No. 3—Much like our Blend No. 2, a fine rich coffee and one that pleases coffee lovers. Always the same and one of our best sellers. Price only 37½c pound

Blend No. 4—A very satisfactory coffee. Large handsome beans and very rich in "Cup Quality"—OUR BIG LEADER. This blend we recommend to coffee lovers or a universal satisfying cup of "Good Coffee" Priced only 35c pound

Blend No. 5—Beautiful, large, handsome bean and very rich in Cup Quality. Another of the big leaders. 3 pounds for $1.00

Blend No. 6—Our biggest seller—our cheapest coffee (but by no means is it the cheapest coffee to be had). Blend No. 6 is a true blend of old crop coffee. A coffee smooth and rich in flavor. A coffee bought and sold on its merits. Priced on the basis of the cost not on how much we could get for it. 28c pound

WILL POST OFFICE BE OPENED ON SUNDAYS?

Agitation In Some Quarters To Have Closing Rules Changed—Postmaster Reeve Talks of Local Situation.

It has been hinted from Washington that Postmaster General Barlow is to issue an order abrogating the order made two years ago by the department, providing for the closing of post offices on Sunday.

Under the system now prevailing the orders of the former postmaster general prohibits Sunday deliveries of any character, the general delivery window remaining closed throughout the entire day and only persons who have lock boxes are able to obtain mail on that day.

When the question of Sunday closing was agitated here there was considerable discussion pro and con on the matter, but the closing Sunday petition circulated, readily gained the number of subscribers needed. A well known farmer in discussing the situation recently stated that for a large number of people who lived in the country, where there was no rural delivery on Sunday that the closing ordinance made it unhandy for them, as often papers, magazines and first class matter could be read on that day. He also cited that there were a number of business men who could use the mails to great advantage on Sunday and it was hardly for traveling men.

Postmaster Reeve is very optimistic about the Sunday closing and believes that the new system, has given general satisfaction. In the first place it gives the carriers a day of rest, who otherwise would be at the office during the morning hours. Mr.
Reeve is also of the opinion that many call for mail on Sunday who have just drifted into the habit and that the majority calling for first class mail was more of a social nature and not in the interest of business.

Just what move the government is going to take about the matter is problematic. While in some places there is a move to keep open on Sundays it is believed that the majority of people here are satisfied with the arrangement and those who feel that they must get mail Sundays can secure a lock-box.

CLAIMS CLIMATIC CONDITIONSCAUSE VARIATIONS IN EFFICIENCY

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 2.—Climatic conditions in Connecticut cause a variation of 15 per cent in the efficiency of laborers, according to Prof. Ellsworth Huntington, of Yale University, who addressed the American Geographical association today. Prof. Huntington after three years study in the factories of Connecticut of the effect of climatic changes on the wage earning capacity of the operatives, said that he had noted greater fluctuations in wages with changes in temperature.

It was his belief, he said, that eventually it will be possible to make a map of the world showing a numerical relationship between human efficiency and climate in many regions where climate records are available.

Professor A. P. Brigan of Colgate University was elected president of the geographical association at the final session.

Postmaster Reinbach Receives Notice from Washington Authorities
—Many Candidates for Position.

The post office authorities at Washington have notified Postmaster Reinbach, of Franklin, that the office is to be removed from the civil service and hereafter will come within the list of presidential appointments. That being the case, Congressmen Rainey will have a hand in picking the man to be head of the office.

The Franklin Times in speaking of the probable candidates for the office says:
"The announcement that the Franklin post office is to come under the list of presidential appointments has caused a flurry among local democrats, and already candidates are actively at work for the place, which pays $1,000 a year as a starter. Among those seeking the congressman's endorsement are W. E. Mayfield, Mayor Wm. Whalen, Fred Burch and Wm. C. Hart. The candidates are all good democrats, and any of them can handle our small part of the mail to our satisfaction. There may be others, but anybody ought to be able to pick a good postmaster out of the bunch."

Postmaster Reinbach has served the community in that capacity over 15 years, and many of his friends are sorry to see him go, though realizing that his retirement is a natural one in the course of political events. His fourth successive four-year term will expire the last of June. He has made no plans for the future, as the time when the appointment of his new postmaster will be announced is yet indefinite.

WILL SERVE THE PEOPLE.

Governor Dunne has paid honor to Jacksonville and Morgan county by the appointment of Judge Owen P. Thompson to membership on the Illinois Utilities commission. The governor has done greater things, however, by this appointment, for he has given to the public service an official who is exceedingly well qualified for the important duties which will come to him through membership on this board.

Judge Thompson is a man of such learning and such integrity that his association with the board will add to its prestige in the eyes of the people. The intent of the law in creating this board was largely that the people might have a tribunal where they could speedily bring to pass the proper management of public utilities, management fair to the owners and the public. When one considers Judge Thompson's career as a lawyer, as a judge, as a citizen, there will come the conviction that in his new position he will be found carefully guarding the interests of the people.

Without regard to party affiliations, citizens of Jacksonville will doubtless find a common pleasure in the fact that Judge Thompson has been so signally honored and will rejoice that the state is to have a servant with the desire and the ability to accomplish good things.

SUFFRAGETTES BEGIN PLANS TO ADVANCE ON ALBANY

Members of Congressional Union Will Go To Baltimore and March From There to State Capital.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Inspired by the "hike" of their New York colleagues, who, headed by "General" Rosalie Jones, are advancing on Albany to impress upon the legislators of the empire state the necessity of a suffrage amendment, members of the Congressional Union here today began plans for a similar move upon Annapolis, the Maryland capital.

The "invaders" it was announced will go to Baltimore next week where the suffragists are to concentrate and with their numbers strengthened by the Maryland forces will go on to the state capital.

Mrs. Medill McCormick, chairman of the congressional committee of the National Woman's Suffrage association stated tonight that beginning next week preparations for the 1914 campaign would be undertaken. It is proposed that through the existing state organizations the women throughout the country will be marshaled for work in all of the congressional districts.

NAMING OF JUDGE THOMPSON A SURPRISE

PEOPLE NOT AWARE HE WAS BEING CONSIDERED FOR UTILITIES POST.

Resignation From Bench Will Cause
Activity Among Aspirants for Office—F. E. Baldwin and William N. Hairgrove Will be Candidates—District is Strongly Democratic.

As announced in the telegraphic dispatches on another page, Gov. Dunne yesterday appointed Judge Owen P. Thompson of this city a member of the Illinois Public Utilities Commission. The naming of Judge Thompson for this important post came as a great surprise to the people of Jacksonville as well as to the rest of the state.

Judge Thompson was distinctly a dark horse, for his name had not been mentioned in connection with the commission and political prophets had foretold that the honor would certainly come to Mr. Fithian, Mr. Kern or some other Illinoisan living south of Springfield. In Chicago Thursday Gov. Dunne told the newspapers that he would name someone who had not been referred to in print and that the down state man would be a lawyer but none of the clever newspaper political writers figured out who the governor had in mind.

JUDGE OWEN P. THOMPSON
Member of Illinois Utilities Commission.

People familiar with Judge Thompson's record on the bench, his legal training, his interest in public affairs, his general temperament, will at once recognize the fitness of the appointment.

A Morgan County Product.

Judge Thompson is now sixty-one years of age and was born at Bethel, this county. He attended the common schools and subsequently engaged in teaching work for five years. He determined upon law study and entered the Albany Law school where he graduated in 1876 and was admitted to the bar the same year. For one year he practiced at Hiawatha, Kas., and then in 1881 returned to Jacksonville. In 1886 he was elected county judge and was re-elected in 1890. In 1894 he engaged in private practice for three years and was then elected a judge of the seventh judicial circuit. He has been twice re-elected and his present term will expire in June 1915.

The seventh judicial district includes the counties of Morgan, Sangamon, Moccasin, Greene, Jersey and Scott. The present judges are Judge Thompson of Jacksonville, Judge Creighton of Springfield and Judge Shirley of Carlinville.

Election Will Be Called.

By appointment of the supreme court Judge Thompson has for an extended period been the presiding judge of the fourth division of the appellate court. As indicated by his statement made in Springfield yesterday Judge Thompson will hear a number of motions in the circuit court here today and will then tender his resignation. It is understood that Governor Dunne will immediately call an election to fill the vacancy. Under the law if the unexpired term to be filled were less than a year an appointment could be made by the governor but if the term is for more than one year an election must be held.

The announcement that Judge Thompson will retire from the circuit bench produced immediate activity among candidates who desire to succeed him.

Candidates Will Be Numerous.

The first candidate to avowedly announce himself was Judge F. E. Baldwin, who will enter upon a campaign immediately after Governor Dunne has issued a call for a special election. Judge Baldwin is known widely in Morgan county and equally as well in Macoupin county. He studied law in Carlinville where he was a resident for a number of years.

William N. Hairgrove said Friday night that he would make no definite announcement until after it was absolutely certain that Governor Dunne would call an election but that in such an event he would unquestionably seek the nomination. Mr. Hairgrove has practiced so long in Morgan county that his friendships extend into every voting precinct. His general acquaintance in the other counties of the district is also extensive, particularly in Sangamon and Greene counties.

T. Forrest Smith may also be an aspirant for the position although he has not stated his ambitions with definiteness. He simply said yesterday that he could see no reason why he should not be a candidate. However it must not be supposed that Morgan county's claim to the

1913 MOST SUCCESSFUL AGRICULTURAL PERIOD

DISTRIBUTIVE TRADE ABOUT EQUALS THAT OF PREVIOUS YEAR.

Summarized Report s Indicate Irregular Holiday Trade Results—Year Generally Profitable For Banks.

New York, Jan. 2.—Dun's review will say tomorrow: "At the opening of the year it is gratifying to note that 1913 was the most successful period from an agricultural standpoint that this country has ever experienced. Notwithstanding adverse climatic conditions the total yield of wheat surpassed all former records and while the corn crop fell considerably below the banner production of the preceding year, higher prices more than compensated for any loss in output. Consequently the value of the nation's farm products reached unparalleled totals while the export trade of the United States in those staples touched figures never before attained.

"The foreign commerce statistics are particularly significant in connection with the monetary situation the large balance of trade in favor of this country indicating that gold imports may be inaugurated early in the year 1914.

"Failures this week are 381 against 313 last year. Failures in Canada number 34 against 27 last year."

Bradstreet's Report.
Bradstreet's will say tomorrow: "Few really new features present themselves this week, usually a period of holiday dullness, end-of-year inventories and restricted industrial activities. Information as to distributive trade, points to the past year as having about equaled 1912.

"Summarized reports indicate irregular holiday trade results, a generally profitable year reported by banks, with dividends in most cases maintained; re-opening of the railroads into the steel market, lower prices for pig-iron and rather more than the usual number of shutdowns over the holidays by leading industries, with, however, promise of many quick resummptions early in January.

"Rather more than the usual list of business failures have been reported and what has been termed the holiday crop of such troubles is numerous and large."

BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, Jan. 2.—Bradstreet's bank clearings report for the week ending January 1, 1914, shows an aggregate of $2,844,829,000, as against $2,633,360,000 last week and $3,062,203,000 in the corresponding week last year.

ALASKAN GOLD DEPOSITS.
Washington, Jan. 2.—The geology and mineral resources of a part of the Yukon-Tanana region, in Alaska, including the gold placers of Rampart and Hot Springs, are described in a report made public today by the United States geological survey.

Placer gold was discovered in the Rampart district probably as early as 1893, and since 1896 systematic mining has been carried on, the first claim worked being on Little Minook creek.

Later, as the area being prospected increased, placers were located and mines developed on the tributaries of Baker creek, and still later on Sullivan creek and neighboring streams tributary to Patterson creek.

Prospecting on the tributaries of the Yukon and Tanana west of the productive areas has revealed the presence of gold in a number of localities. Although much ground is held on some of these streams, especially in the Gold Hill district, the presence of gold in commercial quantities has not been demonstrated.

In the Gold Hill district this may be due in great part to the fact that very little besides annual assessment work is being done and that what is done is largely futile. The scene of greatest activity in mining in the Rampart and Hot Springs districts has shifted to the south as successive discoveries have been made. The Rampart district yielded its greatest output in 1906 and 1907. The placers along the north margin of Baker Flats reached their maximum productions about the same time, but have not fallen off to rapidly as the Rampart district. The Patterson creek locality has steadily increased its production since the operations were begun, the season of 1911 recording the largest output in its history.

ALLEGED SLAYER GIVEN HEARING.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 2.—Roy L. Glover, the San Antonio, Texas, land agent, who shot and killed Daniel De Villiers, the husband of his former wife, at the De Villiers' home here on December 21, was given a preliminary hearing today on the charge of murder.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Edward Livingston, a Burlington brakeman living at Beardstown, has been here with his wife for the holidays and has returned to his duties on the road.

The Greek section gang has completed the work on the Burlington north and has gone southward.

Bluford Violet, Burlington roadmaster, was in the city for a few hours yesterday.

J. H. Peters, Burlington brakeman who was injured in the city Thursday has gone with his wife to their home in Beardstown.

Lester Harey, Burlington warehouse foreman, visited friends in Arceneville Thursday.

M. Mahoney, local section foreman on the C. P. & St. L. has returned from the vicinity of Havana where he has been occupied in special work for five months. His friends are glad to have him back again.

A. E. Peterson, agent of the C. P. & St. L. road, spent Thursday with his wife visiting friends in Little Indian.

J. P. Ramsey, president of the C. P. & St. L. road has issued a circular announcing the appointment of W. C. Hurst as general manager with headquarters at Springfield and directing the various officials to report to the new manager instead of the president as heretofore. Mr. Hurst is made vice-president and general manager.

Miss Helen Zeiler, daughter of C. L. Zeiler, cashier at the C. P. & St. L. station, has recovered from an attack of diphtheria and is about again all right.

Two cars loaded with wheat from Kansas City and bound for Peoria arrived over the Wabash in bad shape and had to be loaded into good cars before the C. P. & St. L. could receive them.

At the Car Shops.
Several flat cars have been left at the round house for repairs.

Locomotives numbers 30, 54 and 57 are undergoing repairs.

A new platform has been placed over the drop pit.

Repairs on the buildings are progressing well. All will be in good shape for the rest of the winter.

Things are all lively again at the shops after the holidays and invoicing are things of the past.

Mr. Edwards, formerly with the bridge company has entered the force at the boiler shop.

Boilermaker Willett has resigned.

R. Dreeseendorf, James Hanley, Thomas Rice, Frank Keiser of the boiler shops and their wives spent their holidays in Springfield.

The repairs on the roof of the boiler shop have been completed and the building is now all right.

C. E. Tobin, boiler shop helper, has resigned.

The veteran storekeeper, John Devlin is sick.

The tide rods for No. 24 were being forged yesterday morning and a big forge fire was necessary for the purpose.

Charles Pires of the blacksmith shop enjoyed the holidays in Springfield.

Frank Doolin of the blacksmith shop has returned from Medora where he visited his family.

Frank Corbridge of the blacksmith shop is sick.

George Yeck of the blacksmith shop visited friends in Beardstown during part of the holidays.

Peter Mader of the machine shop went to the big shoot northeast of the city.

Philip Brander of machine shop has returned with his wife from Concord where they went to visit Mrs. Brander's people.

Combination car No. 32 is undergoing a general overhauling and cleaning.

Engine No. 56 is in for some minor repairs.

The building gang is making general headway with the shop repairs all around.

The long drawn out invoice is completed and the list has been sent to headquarters to be footed up and extended. Soon Mr. Ingram will know his record for the past year.

"SNOW BABY" MAKES SOCIAL BOW.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Miss Mary Peary, daughter of Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, the discoverer of the North Pole, made her society debut at a reception and tea given by her parents at their home in this city today.

The function was a brilliant success from every viewpoint. Fully 500 guests attended, among them being the foremost representatives of official and resident society in the national capital.

Much has been said and written about Miss Peary and she is one of the most beautiful debutantes in Washington. She is widely known as the "Snow Baby" of the Esquimaux, who bestowed that title upon her shortly after her birth farther north than any white child in the world, her mother being the first white woman to winter with an Arctic expedition.

APPROVE OF BOND ISSUE.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Stockholders of the meat packing firm of Swift & Co., assembled here today in annual meeting, approved of the proposal of the directors for a 20 year issue of first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds, the first $10,000,000 of which is to be dated July 1, 1914.

The mortgage is to be secured by all the property of the corporation. Half of the first $10,000,000 of the new issue is to be used to refund bonds now outstanding and maturing on July 1, 1914, and the remainder is to be applied to liquidating floating indebtedness.

PROF. SANFORD EXPLAINS ABOUT JOHNSTON MEMORIAL FUND

All Friends and Admirers of the Well Known Educator Are Asked To Make Subscriptions.

Prof. F. W. Sanford of the faculty of the University of Nebraska who is in the city a guest at the home of his parents Dr. and Mrs. George H. Sanford yesterday made the following statement concerning the memorial fund which is designed to give some recognition to the life and work of the late Dr. H. W. Johnston. To Citizens of Jacksonville:

During the summer of 1913 a number of friends of the late Prof. H. W. Johnston conceived the idea of establishing a suitable memorial in his honor. To this end a committee of 100 was organized and Prof. Edward Carps of Princeton university as chairman and myself as secretary-treasurer. An address was issued setting forth the purpose of the organization and asking for contributions. The appeal has met with a generous response.

In drawing up a mailing list of Jacksonville citizens to whom the address should be sent, the chairman and secretary were compelled to rely largely on memory. They inevitably missed many friends and admirers of Prof. Johnston who would no doubt be glad to contribute to this memorial fund. I am writing this in order to give wider local publicity to the enterprise. Ralph L. Dunlap of the Ayers National bank has consented to act as treasurer for the receipts of further contributions in Jacksonville and immediate vicinity. All Jacksonville citizens desiring to contribute, whether they received copies of the address or not are asked to place their contributions in Mr. Dunlap's hands.

The following paragraph of the address sent out in November sufficiently indicates the general purpose of the committee has in view:

"Prof. Johnston's many friends and admirers wherever they live and whatever their academic affiliations, unite with those more closely associated with Illinois college and Indiana university in the conviction that any monument erected to his memory should stand in some immediate relation to the two institutions of learning which called forth his powers and commanded his devotion.

"The form which this memorial will take will depend upon the sum of money subscribed. It is the desire of the committee, if a sufficient amount is placed at its disposal, to establish foundations, bearing Prof. Johnston's name, the income from which shall be used for the purchase of classical books, each book to be appropriately marked; and also to set up commemorative tablets at each institution. The general plan admits of modification, as a whole and for each institution, in accordance with the response accorded to this address."

F. W. Sanford.

PRESIDENT FINLEY INAUGURATED.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 2.—In the presence of the most notable gathering of American educators ever assembled in Albany Dr. John Huston Finley was inaugurated today as president of the University of New York and as state commissioner of education, succeeding Dr. Andrew S. Draper, deceased, the state's first commissioner of education. The exercises brought to Albany representatives of numerous colleges and universities throughout the country.

President Emeritus Eliot of Harvard and a number of other noted educators were among the speakers at the installation exercises.

Dr. Finley comes to his new office from the College of the City of New York, of which institution he became president ten years ago. He is 50 years old and a native of Illinois. For some years he was president of Knox college, at Galesburg, Ill., and later he became widely known as editor of the Harper publications.

STAR ATHLETES TO COMPETE.

New York, Jan. 2.—Judging from the list of entries, the annual national indoor track and field championships of the A. A. U., which are to take place tomorrow night at the Thirtieth Regiment armory in Brooklyn, will be one of the most successful meets of its kind ever held. Star performers from many of the leading colleges of the east are to be included among the contestants, together with club athletes from Buffalo, Boston, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and a number of other cities. The program of the evening will be made up of ten events, as follows: Sixty yard dash, 220 yard dash, 600 yard run, 1,000 yard run, two mile run, twelve pound shot put, running high jump, standing broad jump and sixty yard hurdle.

MONTREAL AUTOMOBILE SHOW.

Montreal, Jan. 2.—The doors of the Craig Street Drill hall were opened today for the annual exhibition given under the auspices of the Automobile Traders' Association of Montreal, with every prospect of establishing a new record for attendance and general success. Virtually all of the leading American manufacturers of automobiles, tires and accessories are represented. In addition, several English and French car makers have sent exhibits for the first time.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

Chandler makers in Milwaukee have formed a union.

All underground miners in Ontario now have the 8 hour working day.

John W. Scully of South Norwalk, Conn., is the new president of the United Hatters of America.

In the eleven years from 1901 to 1913 inclusive there were 1,313 strikes and lockouts in Canada.

The Trades and Labor Council of Grand Rapids, Mich., is striving for the 8 hour day in all municipal work.

Bakers and confectionery workers issued 581,728,000 union labels during the past twelve months.

In the organized industries in Great Britain there are said to be 300,000 women who earn less than $3 a week.

The various locals of the United Mine Workers of America are electing delegates to the national convention at Indianapolis this month.

Announcements is made that California will vote at the next general election on the question of establishing a universal 8 hour work day in the state.

A report of the New York state department of labor says that more than a quarter of a million operatives are employed in the clothing and millinery industries in New York city.

The membership of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters is taking a referendum vote on a proposal to divide the $500,000 defense fund, exclusive of $25,000, equally among the locals of the organization.

The Massachusetts state branch of the International Union of Stationary Engineers voted at the present annual convention in favor of the establishment of a state wide uniform wage scale for engineers.

The biennial convention of the Bricklayers, Plasterers and Masons' International union will meet in Houston, Texas, January 12. A proposal to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor will be one of the principal matters of discussion.

The International Typographical union has more than $600,000 invested in first class securities in the United States and Canada, the money being the reserve funds credited to the mortuary, benefit and general account of the organization.

Labor unions in London have under consideration a project to build a $1,000,000 structure to serve as the general headquarters of their organization. It is proposed to include in the building a club, office accommodations for fifty unions, a large hall and store rooms.

Under the arbitration contract between the Boot and Shoe Workers' union and the Massachusetts state board of conciliation all arbitration the latter was awarded an increase of 15 to 25 cents per day for sole leather cutters in Brockton shoe factories.

In his annual report the head of the New York state department of labor says: "The progress of the movement for shorter hours is strikingly shown by the fact that 29 per cent of the state's factory operatives are working less than 54 hours per week, and 46 per cent between 52 and 48 hours."

BIDS FOR GENERATOR.

Sealed bids will be received by the city of Jacksonville, at the office of the commissioner of accounts and finance, at the city hall, until 10 a. m., January 5th, 1914, for one three phase, 60 cycle, 2300 volts, belted generator 150 K. W. alternating current in accordance with specifications on file at the office of the city clerk.

All bids should be sealed and marked "Bid for Generator" and addressed to the undersigned.

Charles R. Knollenberg, Commissioner of Accounts and Finance.

The city reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids.

Jacksonville, Ill., Dec. 22, 1913.

TO TRY ALLEGED MUTINEERS.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 2.—The cases of the thirteen alleged mutineers in the crew of the American bark Manga Reva were called for trial in the federal court here today. The alleged mutiny occurred on the high seas in November last, when members of the crew of the Manga Reva rebelled against what they considered the poor and inadequate rations given them. After making the captain and his chief officers captives, the crew took possession of the vessel and brought her into port. Charges of mutiny against the ringleaders followed. The trials will be the first of the kind that have taken place in the federal courts here for many years. The most of the accused men are subjects of England, Germany, Norway or Sweden, and the consuls representing those countries have engaged counsel to assist in the defense.

TO LEAVE ACTIVE SERVICE.

Washington, Jan. 2.—On his own application, after nearly forty years of active service, Col. George H. G. Gale will be placed on the retired list of the army tomorrow. A native of Maine, Col. Gale was graduated from West Point in 1879, since which time he has served in the cavalry arm, with the exception of a detail of four years in the inspector general's department. Recently he was stationed at Fort Slocum.

Bumped Up Against the Real Thing.

"I think I have bumped up against the real thing in Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Dr. R. Thomas, Tidoute, Pa. "They do the work and cause no unpleasant reaction." In cases of constipation when pills and saline cathartics are used, their use is often followed by constipation as they take so much water out of the system. On the other hand the effect of Chamberlain's Tablets is so agreeable and so natural that you do not realize that it has been induced by a medicine, and no reaction follows their use. ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANTS ORGANIZED AT WINCHESTER

Scott County Citizens Join in Movement to Have Lights, Service to be Given in Nine Months.

Much to the surprise of many of our citizens, a local electric light company has been organized with the backing of some of our best financial citizens, says the Winchester Times.

A called meeting of the city council was held Wednesday morning and a twenty-five year franchise granted the company. They agree to furnish lights at a maximum rate of 10 cents with a discount of 10 per cent for prompt payment. A plant will be built in Winchester and a twenty-four hour service given. Under the terms of the franchise work must commence within three months and the plant ready for service within nine months. The men back of the new company are: R. W. Frost, E. J. Frost, Ed D. Smith, Albert Rainsforth, G. A. Clark, W. D. Gibbs, C. W. Banes, James T. Wilson and R. M. Riggs.

It is the intention of the above gentlemen to issue stock to every consumer of electricity that wishes same, and as it will be a home company who will be more apt to look after our interest than some outside corporation, should be encouraged. It does not look like the present company is going to give us any lower rate than at present unless forced to do so by competition.

Through the courtesy of L. W. Chambers the Journal is permitted to examine a copy of a paper printed long ago in this city. It is the Illinois Patriot and the copy mentioned is dated Nov. 2, 1833, and is Vol. II, No. 49, published by J. G. Edwards, at $2.50 a year if paid in advance, and $3.00 if deferred, and paper stopped when time is out.

The first article tells of the conviction of Miss Prudence Crandall of Connecticut for the foul crime of teaching African people from other states and from the article it would be inferred that the "criminal" had conducted at New Haven a school or seminary for colored people. The conviction came after a second trial, which occupied some time and the case was carried higher to test the constitutionality of the law. The article fails to state the punishment meted out to the lady for her heinous crime.

Following this is a long account of an attempted anti-slavery meeting in Clinton hall, New York. The meeting was called for the purpose of forming an abolition society, which would have for its purpose the doing away with the awful curse of slavery and the men calling it were among some of the best citizens of New York.

The friends of slavery didn't like the idea of the meeting and two papers published inflammatory articles about it, while several persons went deliberately to work to cause a row. They posted bills signed "Many Southerners," calling on all friends of the south to attend this meeting, and there was no secret of the fact that the intention was to break it up.

The people gathered at the hall, but the mob was so great that the place was not opened, as the disposition of the majority seemed to be to break up the meeting, so adjournment was taken to Tammany hall.

In the meantime the friends of emancipation proceeded to Chatham Street chapel, where they came to order and adopted a series of resolutions and adjourned just in time to escape a mob which had followed from Tammany hall. The resolutions cited the declaration of independence and called slavery a great evil and pledged the signers to do all in their power to do away with the crying sin and evil.

A long article is quoted from the New York Journal of Commerce, which severely denounced the action of the mob. It stated that the "Many Southerners" were doubtless northern fanatics who were not satisfied with expressing their views, but wanted to stifle the others who differed from them. It stoutly maintains the right of free speech so long as obscene, profane, unlawful, treasonable or unfit language is not used, no matter what may be the object or what the characters of the speakers. The article also spoke of a mob which was outgeneraled by the anti-slavery forces. The latter left Clinton hall, made a feint at Tammany hall, to which they attracted their enemies, and then the most of them met at Chatham Street chapel, where they organized, adopted a constitution and bylaws and adjourned before the mob got at them and like "The King of France with 60,000 men Marched up the hill and then marched down again."

A highly eulogistic article regarding Henry Clay is quoted from the Cincinnati Gazette. It mentions the eminent statesman visiting regions dotted with factories his beneficent tariff legislation had fostered and pays him many great compliments.

A humorous account is given of an attempt by the so-called kitchen cabinet to start a run on the Washington branch of the United States bank. Francis P. Blair took a wheelbarrow and check for $2,000 to the bank to demand payment in the wheelbarrow, though the bank might have kept the check to apply in $19,000 he owed the institution. The wheelbarrow was started toward another bank and the officers seeing it quickly gathered $2,000 in bills of that bank, sent a messenger to the bank with the bills, took the gold deposited for them and Mr. Blair had the pleasure (?) of seeing the specie go back again to the bank he had tried to injure.

A chapter is quoted from a Britisher pretending to tell of life in America at that time. He said that New York city was inhabited by Dutch, Yankees, Irish and Indians, and the Lord Mayor had great troubles. The Indians went armed with tomahawks and lived by plundering the whites, and the field marshal, a brave fellow named Hays, fought a pitched battle with the redskins, but the Yankees fled and the redskins were victorious, though the marshal continued to fight with his sword, destroying a number of the Indians. The Yankees were very despicable and to outvote them the Lord Mayor imported many Irishmen to beat them. All this was told in a book as sober truth and was doubtless believed by many English people.

The paper is dated Nov. 2nd and late news from England was of Sept. 3d and 4th.

Some two columns and more are devoted to letters from an imaginary "Major Downing," supposed to be writing from Washington City and ridiculing the president. General Jackson, as his chief, Martin Van Buren. The letters are copied from the New York Daily Advertiser. The opening sentence in one of the letters is as follows:

"I, Major Downing of the 2nd brigade of the Downingsville militia and second best man in the government, (I and the Giral being pretty much the hull on't) think that the last proclamation again Bluff and the Bank hasn't reasons enuff in it, give out this my proclamation as a Clincher.

"The times is now gettin pretty squally and if we don't all look out things will go to smash and now is the time for all on you to back me and the Giral."

An article copied from the Cincinnati Gazette speaks approvingly of an item copied by that paper from the Western Carolinian and tells of the pleasure the editor takes in the fact some $400,000 had been subscribed for the construction of a railroad from Raleigh to Wilmington.

On another page is the story, from an English paper, of the fall of the Brighton Athenaeum, a huge structure of iron and glass with a dome like that at St. Peter's Rome, and which was probably faulty in its architecture or foundation, as it fell before being completed.

Another article is from London regarding the importation of tea in the colonies and the duties to be collected on them. An article copied from the Albany Advertiser strongly reminds one of sundry newspaper items in our own land during the civil war. It criticizes President Andrew Jackson for his arbitrary assumption of power and suggests that as he evidently wants to run the government himself, he might as dispense with congress entirely. It says:

"Whether Gen. Jackson contemplates dispensing with the services of congress or not, he certainly has left very little for that body to do. There is no necessity for their voting specific appropriations because all the money is in the hands of the president, who can put out as it is wanted. This will save congress a vast deal of time and trouble in investigating claims and deciding upon proper objects or expenditure."

The senate is entirely relieved of the drudgery of appointing to office people whom they don't know anything about. Gen. Jackson understands all and about that sort of thing and takes the whole trouble into his own hands. As the general won the battle of New Orleans and is an L. L. D. it is perfectly clear he is the greatest civilian extant. It would make the government a much more simple machine if he were permitted to keep it going without the bother and annoyance of having to study a law once in a while in order to find out the best method of evading it.

And inasmuch as the people by electing him president have sanctioned all his past messages and vetoes and future one too it would be much better if the old gentleman would remain quietly in the white house, where he is smoking the pipe and governing his subjects till he dies. It will be time enough to have a new election then. This procedure will save all the time and worry of a contested election and suffer the people to go on tranquilly minding their own business and leaving the General to mind his."

There is but one column of original matter and that is editorial, apologizing for the irregular appearance of the paper, owing to sickness in the family of the management, promising great and early improvement in the paper and a severe criticism of Gen. Duncan for his course in disseminating certain bank notes and changing front regarding the United States bank.

From the Springfield Journal is copied an interesting account of a treaty at Chicago with Indians, by which they cede to the government large tracts of land in Illinois, Indiana and Michigan. The commissioners were obliged to pay the very high price of $150 an acre for the reservation on the St. Joseph's river in order to complete the removal of the Indians from the territory.

The marriage by Rev. J. M. Sturtevant of Major Alexander Brother of Mercedosa and Miss Sidney January of Jacksonville was announced.

A whole page is devoted to a list of delinquent tax payers and lands in Adams county.

Among the advertisements are Wilson & Brown, dry goods; Wm. Orser offers lots for sale; lawyers or law firms are Walter Jones & John J. Hardin, Evans & Anderson, Joel A. Lamborn and Murray McConnell; David B. Ayers, drugs and books; Gillette & Gordon, grain; Miss Caroline Blood, infant school; Jacksonville Female Academy, Mrs. Sarah C. Crocker, principal; Z. Carter, lime; blooded cattle, J. J. Hardin; several St. Louis firms and others.

SICK, SOUR STOMACH,
INDIGESTION OR GAS

Take "Pape's Diapiesin" and in Five Minutes You'll Wonder What Became of Misery in Stomach.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

CITY COUNCIL HELD BRIEF

SESSION FRIDAY MORNING

Adjourned Until Today on Account of the Funeral of James T. King, a Former Mayor of Jacksonville.

An adjourned meeting of the city council was called to order Friday morning by Mayor Davis when the second reading of the gas franchise ordinance was to be taken up. After the roll had been called Mayor Davis suggested that it would be appropriate to adjourn the sessions until Saturday on account of the funeral of James T. King, a former mayor. This motion was passed after like action on another motion appointing the mayor to draft suitable resolutions concerning the death of Mr. King.

Mayor Davis stated that blank forms for the appropriation ordinance had been placed in the hands of the various commissioners with the suggestion that each official fill the amounts he thought proper for his department the same to have consideration at a subsequent meeting of the council.

Commissioner Newman filed with the clerk a copy of the proposition made several weeks since by the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co. to sell to the city street lights and current for pumping. Mr. Miser was present to make a statement with reference to the contract his company desires to make.

Another session will be held this morning at ten o'clock.

MOTHER! IF CHILD'S

TONGUE IS COATED

If cross, feverish, constipated, bilious stomach sour, give "California Syrup of Figs."

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company. "Don't be fooled!"—Adv.

CONFERENCE OF

OHIO PROGRESSIVES.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 2.—Many leading representatives of the Progressive party in Ohio arrived in this city today in response to a call issued by State Chairman Walter F. Brown. Tomorrow the party leaders will get together for a conference to discuss plans for the state election to be held next fall. It has already been decided to nominate candidates for all state and county offices to be filled at the election. Following the conference tomorrow there will be a mass meeting at which Albert J. Beveridge, former United States senator from Indiana, and one of the national leaders of the Progressive party, is expected to deliver an address.

FOREIGN BUILT CARS.

New York, Jan. 2.—The 1914 Automobile Salon, as the annual exhibition of foreign built motor cars in this city is known, was opened in the ball room of the Hotel Astor today and will be continued for one week. The number of exhibits is the largest that ever participated in a foreign automobile show in the United States. Automobile and accessory manufacturers of England, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium are represented.

MR. AND MRS. KING ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. John King of 503 West College avenue entertained a number of friends Thursday at a six o'clock New Year's dinner. Among out of town guests were Mr. & Mrs. James Mallory of Chicago and Mrs. Alice Moore of St. Louis. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Russell were also among the guests. While the refreshments were being served, music was furnished by the King & Briscoe orchestra.

DINED AT PEACOCK.

The Knox College glee club comprising eighteen young gentlemen took dinner yesterday at Peacock. They had been at New Berlin the evening before and were awaiting a train north on the C. P. & St. L. road. They were very pleasant young men and made a good impression on all they met.

STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

HAS A SURVEY STARTED

Will Make Complete Compilation of Documents in Each County.

Before the close of the new year, the Illinois State Historical society will have compiled a complete calendar of the historical documents now in the possession of the various counties of the state, Prof. Theodore C. Pease, formerly of the faculty of the University of Illinois and now of the University of Chicago, took up this work today and expects to have it completed by September 1, next.

The Historical society has decided to have its survey completed immediately in order to lay before the Illinois Centennial commission at the earliest possible date, complete data regarding historical documents and relics such as are desired for exhibition during the celebration in 1918 of the one hundredth anniversary of the admission of Illinois to statehood. In addition to making the calendar of historical public documents, Professor Pease is instructed to locate all material that will add to the fullness of the exhibition that is to form a feature of the Centennial celebration.

A survey of the state in this manner was begun in 1911. Prof. Clarence E. Johns, now of Harvard university, putting in the entire year on the work and Prof. John T. Senn, now of Wesleyan University, at Middletown, Connecticut, assisting him during the summer and fall. The two completed a survey of eighty-eight counties of the state and gathered a vast amount of valuable information. Included among the fourteen counties remaining for Professor Pease to survey is the county of Cook and considerable of his time will be devoted to that county, which is said to offer a rich field for research of this character.

The Illinois legislature passed a law in 1896 authorizing county commissioners and other county officials to turn over to the State Historical Library or to the University of Illinois library documents of purely historical value. As a result of that legislation a wealth of material has been secured. Mrs. Jessie Palmer Weber, librarian of the State Historical Library, spent several weeks in the dusty vaults of the Sangamon county court house, which was under the state capitol building, and dug out many priceless treasures that are now safely preserved in the library. Officials of other counties have placed additional documents in the custody of the historical library and state university until the collection has assumed impressive proportions. The greater volume of material of this sort, however, still are scattered over the state, in more or less precarious custody.

STRIKING MINES TO BE TRIED.

L'Anse, Mich., Jan. 2.—Nearly fifty defendants charged with acts of lawlessness in connection with the great strike of the copper miners are to be placed on trial in the Baraga county circuit court here, beginning next Monday. The cases were brought to Baraga county on exchange of venue from Houghton county. Prosecuting Attorney Anthony Liles and a staff of assistants are busily engaged in completing the final arrangements for the trial of the cases. Virtually all of those under charges are from the ranks of the striking miners. Two of the defendants are to be tried for murder. Nearly all of the others are charged either with intimidation, carrying concealed weapons or resisting an officer.

STOP CATARRH

Unless Properly Treated With Hyomei This Disease May Become Serious.

If you have catarrh, usually indicated by sniffing, stopped up head, droppings in throat, watery eyes, and morning choking, there is an irritated state of the mucous membrane which affords an ideal condition for the growth of disease germs.

Do not allow the dangerous germs which may be breathed into the nose, throat and lungs to begin the destruction of your health.

The easiest, simplest, quickest, surest and cheapest way to check catarrh is by breathing Hyomei—all druggists sell it. This wonderful medicated air treatment does not upset the stomach, but is breathed in through the Hyomei inhaler, directly following and surely destroying all disease germs that may have been inhaled—the tissues of the throat, nose and lungs are quickly healed and vitalized.

The unusual way in which Hyomei is used dispels all doubts as to its curative properties. Money refunded to anyone whom Hyomei fails to benefit. A complete outfit, including inhaler and bottle of liquid, costs but $1.00.—Adv.

FREE

I treat successfully the cases I undertake and accept no fee from those who are incurable. That is why I continue my visits year after year, while other specialists make only a few visits and cease to return.

IS THIS THE WAY YOU FEEL?

Tired in the morning and easily excited? Are you dizzy or nervous? Pain in the head? Tongue coated? Have you Catarrh—nose stopped up? Gas on the stomach? Hands and feet cold? Pain of hands moist? Have you a dull, dragging pain or ache of the body, back or limbs? Have you Rheumatism? Have you Piles? Piles—itching or bleeding? Have you kidney or bladder trouble, lame or weak back, pains in back or limbs? Have you any blood disease—scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, bone pains, pale complexion and losing weight?

I invite you to call and investigate the Carson System of the treatment of Chronic Diseases, which I have perfected after fifteen years of experience and study, and you will be convinced that my modern, up to date methods of curing disease are what you need.

Never before has there been a treatment giving such universal satisfaction. Every sufferer is cordially invited to call and secure full details concerning this new treatment free of charge.

REMEMBER DATE OF VISIT.

Come early as parlors are always crowded.

A friendly call may save you future suffering; it has made life anew to thousands who had erred. Reference: Dr. Carson Bank, Call or address, inquiries.

C. W. CARSON, M. D., 766 Oakwood Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

For a good many years I suffered with pain in my side, back and chest, and had rheumatism and stomach trouble, so that it was hard for me to work, but after taking a course of treatment of Dr. C. W. Carson, the Chicago Specialist, I can say I am perfectly well. Can work or do anything, and feel well afterward. Would be glad to answer any inquiries.

Mrs. J. H. McFarlin,

R. F. D. 1, Ntw Windsor, Ill.

Feeling so grateful to Dr. C. W. Carson for what he has done for me, I want to publicly tell every one. Seven years ago I started treatment with Dr. Carson, when practically every other doctor had given me up, and advised, as a last resort, an operation for a large swelling in my side. I took his treatment for a long while, but have never regretted it, as for the last four years I have been as sound and healthy a woman as ever lived, and have done more laborious work than most women. I can truthfully say that I haven't an ache, nor a pain, nor an ill feeling in my body.

I am writing this to show my gratitude for what Dr. Carson has done for me, and hope it will be the means of helping some other sufferer.

Would be glad to answer any inquiries.

TERRIBLE ITCHING OF SKIN TROUBLE

Small Red and Yellow Spots on Leg. Covered with Dry Scale. Had to Walk Floor Nights. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

R. F. D. No. 3, Clarkfield, Minn. — "My trouble was of long standing. It started with some small red and yellow spots about the size of a pin head on my legs and every morning there was a dry scale on top covering the affected part and when those scales were falling off the itching was more than I could stand at times. The first year I did not mind it so much as it was only itching very badly at times, but the second year it advanced all around my leg and the itching was terrible. I had to be very careful to have my clothing around the affected part very loose. At night time I often happened to scratch the sore in my sleep. Then I had to stand up, get out of bed and walk the floor.

"Then I read the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I wrote for a sample and got it. To my surprise I was feeling relief after the second application. So I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a fifty-cent box of Cuticura Ointment and when I had used them I was nearly over the itching. So I got another box and that healed it all up so it looked smooth and fine, but I kept on with the Cuticura Soap for six weeks and the cure was complete." (Signed) S. O. Gordon, Nov. 20, 1912.

Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card to "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

ADDRESS BY THE LATE

JUDGE CHARLES A. BARNES

Tells of Fraternal Orders and Moral Education While Holding the Office of Supreme Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias.

As if leaving a message to future generations, the words uttered by the late Judge C. A. Barnes on fraternal orders and moral education, are read with a deeper meaning today. Judge Barnes was Supreme Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of the world at the time the following abstract of an address prepared by him was given:

Mankind has been advancing to a higher and better state of moral and educational development, and still the situation today will look barbarous centuries hence.

Forty-four years ago many people condemned fraternal organizations without today they are regarded as allies of the church, a potent factor in social, educational and moral advancement of our people. By fraternity we mean the associating of men together into a society having for its ultimate object the common good of themselves and humanity; the promulgation of the doctrine of the universal brotherhood of man; a joining of forces to exemplify the Golden Rule; to seek to build up higher ideals; to exalt true manhood to strive to make life and the world better, happier and brighter.

The conception of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man has been the beacon light that has led advancing civilization in all its phases. To these two ideas we owe all moral good and true happiness that mankind has received.

By organization and combined interest and effort the cause of the Fatherhood of God has been advanced. Religious societies teach the same fundamental idea which has been the best gift to mankind and the chief factor for human happiness and advancement.

The shortcomings of some members of these societies do not detract from the truth of their doctrines and should not bring criticism to the organizations.

Time has demonstrated that the idea of fraternity can best be taught by the organization of those who love this idea. This caused the formation of fraternal organizations. The fundamental idea on which they are created is identical. That fraternal society is the best that impresses its members the most forcibly with the doctrine of fraternity and causes them to practice it in their every day life. Fraternity as thus taught impresses the members of the society that they owe a duty to themselves and fellow men; teaches them to be temperate in all things; to obey the moral law; to observe the obligations to society, the obligations of the law and of their country.

Ideal fraternity teaches us to treat our fellow man honestly and help him to be a better, happier and more worthy citizen.

Fraternal orders stand next to the church in bringing about the millennium. The members in these orders learn to respect the thoughts of others and to cease those habits or conduct that offends, selfishness is curbed.

Fraternal organizations are improving their methods and increasing their results. In recent years they have made much progress along the line of moral education. They have taken high moral positions on public questions that affect the health and morality of our people.

HELD SUCCESSFUL SHOOT.

The blue rock and turkey shoot given New Year's day at the home of James Bryant on the Morton road attracted a goodly number of marksmen and was a very interesting event. One thousand rocks and sixty birds were shot and some excellent records were made. Among the winners were the following: George Taylor, one guinea and two ducks; Clark Green, two ducks, one turkey and one goose; Thomas Martin, guinea, turkey and duck; Schirz Bros., three ducks and two geese; William Wright, two geese; Leslie Switzer, three geese and a turkey; Carl West a duck and goose; Ernest Sibley, turkey; Mr. Hogan a goose; Mr. Sweeney one duck and J. E. McDonald a duck. In the target shoot which followed the blue rock match Dick Dye and Harry Potter each won a turkey and a number of others also won prizes.

DR. REED ON SEX HYGIENE.

Rev. Horace Reed, field lecturer for the Illinois Vigilance association is an advocate of the study of sex hygiene in the public schools under proper conditions. In a circular on the subject recently issued he makes the following suggestions on the subject:

"Let the school board in each city and town arrange with pure, intelligent, and discriminating family physicians, for one of their number to go to the school building at least once in two months. Separate the boys and girls and then let the physician give the boys such a lecture as a wise, clean, and consistent family physician can give and as all boys these days ought to have.

"Then let a good lady physician give the girls such a lecture as all girls these days should have.

"I would also suggest that when these lectures are given to the boys their fathers should be invited to be present, and when given to the girls their mothers should be invited to be present."

QUICK RELIEF

FOR RHEUMATISM.

George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began the use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Alcott, druggist. — Adv.

THE DOMINANT SOUTH.

Christian Endeavour World—The present national house of representatives contains 435 members, 296 of whom are Democratic, and the remainder Republicans and Progressives. This congress is controlled by the Democrats, and the Democrats are in turn controlled by the southern Democrats. The population represented by the southern Democrats is about thirty million as compared to nearly thirty million in the north. A comparison of the wealth of the two sections will disclose a much greater disparity.

In the make-up of the committees we have these interesting figures. Of the seventeen committees classed as the "big committees" of the house, in which the membership of each numbers twenty-one, the chairmanships of sixteen go to the southern states. That means that the control of the floor, when any measure comes from any of the sixteen committees will be in the hands of twenty committees of which the membership of each is from thirteen to seventeen members, fifteen chairmanships go to the southern states.

Of the nineteen committees classed as small and unimportant committees, seven chairmanships go to the south and twelve to the north. The most significant point is the manner in which individual states share in the honor. Virginia with a population of two million has the chairmanship of four of the best committees of the house, viz, banks and banking, foreign affairs, military affairs and insular affairs. In all matters that come to the house from these four committees some member from Virginia will control and direct the work on the floor.

Alabama with a population of two million will have the chairmanships of four committees, viz, ways and means, judiciary, pensions, and immigration. Tennessee with a population of two million has the chairmanships of three committees, navy affairs, postoffices and territories. Missouri with a population of three million has the chairmanship of good roads, merchant marine, and election of president and vice-president.

Texas with a population of nearly four million has great recognition in the chairmanships on rules, Indian affairs, railways, was claims, irrigation, and the library. Georgia with a population of two and one-half million has the chairmanships on interstate and foreign commerce, coinage, and education. The same may be observed in less extent to Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky, Maryland, all of which get important chairmanships.

On the other hand, New York, with a population of nine million, has one important chairmanship, viz, appropriations while not a single important chairmanship goes to Pennsylvania, with a population of seven and one-half million. To Ohio with her five million population, is given the chairmanship of the invalid-pensions committee. General Sherwood, the only federal soldier in this congress, is at its head. But New England, the north central states, the northwest and the far west are off the map so far as control of legislation is concerned. Illinois has the chairmanship of two small committees, mines and alcoholic liquors.

The most striking contrast is made by comparing either Alabama or Virginia with either Pennsylvania or New York. Each of the former controls four committees, while Pennsylvania has none and New York only one. One chairman is either of the former states would represent five hundred thousand population, while one in New York represents nine million, and seven and one-half million in Pennsylvania have no important committee representation.

Two states, Virginia and Alabama exert together influence in the control of the floor of the house in the Sixty-third congress than all the north and west combined. This anomaly in legislation in other days was noticeable when the small state of Maine exerted such powerful influence in a similar way. This observation could, indeed, be generally applied in other days to most of the states of New England, especially Massachusetts.

Perhaps no congress prior to the Sixty-third furnishes so striking an illustration of the observation made by the distinguished English scholar, Ambassador Bryce; viz, the powerful influence upon legislation the states which will have in the future. Party lines there do not disturb tenure in office, while in the north party division becomes so acute that representatives have no long lease on a seat in congress. This fact, taken in connection with the force of custom in their case in reference to rules of debate, will explain how completely a congress can be dominated by section or leadership if such be the desire of those in authority.

DON'T TRUST CALOMEL

THOUSANDS EXPERIENCE BAD AFTER EFFECTS FROM THIS DANGEROUS DRUG.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver toner in a combination of vegetable materials mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him, years ago, towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in the marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. And their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

There is no necessity when you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, by following them up with nasty, sickening, gripping salts, or castor oil, as you do after taking calomel. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio.

The Ordinary Roof.

An ordinary farm house roof will contain about 1,600 square feet, based on horizontal measurement, and will yield in the course of a year 30,000 gallons, or about 82 gallons per day. It is of course not necessary to build the cistern large enough to store this entire quantity for the reason that the rainfall is more or less distributed throughout the year. On the other hand there are occasional years, such as 1895, 1908, 1911 and 1913, when throughout large areas there may be as many as six months with but very slight rainfall, hence liberal storage should be provided. Half the average annual rainfall or about 15,000 gallons may be regarded as proper storage and this requires a cistern 16 feet in diameter and 10 feet deep to the flow line, a much larger size than is commonly built.

In addition to the run-off from the house roof there are opportu-

EWES NEED PROTECTION FROM RAIN AND COLD WEATHER.

Strong and Vigorous Young More Likely if Mothers are Fed After
Wise Methods—Late Sown Rye

Is Valuable Addition to Rations.

(By W. C. Coffey, Professor of Sheep Husbandry, University of Illinois).

Sheep should be in such a healthy and thriving state during the period of pregnancy that they are in rather high condition by the time the lambs are due (good heart, some shepherds say). Healthy, thriving ewes are more likely to give birth to a strong, vigorous lamb and to have a large flow of milk than those that are more or less diseased and in low condition. If the flock is noticeably uneven in flesh, it should be divided at the close of the breeding season and the thinner ewes given additional feed.

On most farms, particularly in the corn belt, there are pastures, oat or wheat stubble, and corn stalks to be utilized in the fall of the year. It is the best policy to make use of the stubble and stalks as early as possible so that they will not be greatly deteriorated by rains and frosts. Blue grass and timothy pastures, and even old clover fields can be left for use until late autumn and early winter in case the stubble and stalks can furnish an abundance of feed. In fact, pastures in the corn belt can be grazed with sheep most of the time during all of the winter months, but pastures should not be depended upon as the only source of feed during that time.

Sow Rye For Feed.

If pasturage is limited, a good way to secure succulent autumn and winter feed is to sow rye late in August or early in September at the rate of one bushel per acre. Rye is not generally looked upon as a feed of considerable sustaining and fattening power, but it does furnish succulence and a means for exercising the pregnant ewes.

Ordinarily it is the best plan to begin feeding pregnant ewes grain or hay or both not later than January 1, and often it is advisable to begin a month earlier than this. It is impossible to set a definite time for beginning to use harvested feeds. The owner must be guided solely by the supply of feed in the fields and the condition of his flock. Unless the ewes are in thin flesh, the amount of grain fed should not be more than 5 to 7 pound per day for individuals weighing about 150 pounds. Whole oat are always considered good feed for sheep, but other grains and concentrated feed products can be used. Corn alone is not considered by many of the best shepherds a good grain feed for breeding sheep. Their objection is that it is "too heating." However, the writer believes corn has been too harshly criticized by many shepherds. Corn is a good feed for breeding ewes when used with discretion. It should not form all the grain part of the ration. Instead, it should be mixed with oats or should be one of several ingredients forming the concentrate part of the ration. For example, we have found at the Illinois experimental station that the mixture—oats, ten; corn, five; bran, three; and oil meal, two pump suction is in the small compartment on the concave side of the filter wall and the water filters through slowly as needed. By making the inlet chamber very large as compared with the filtered water chamber, it is possible to get a large degree of clarification by sedimentation alone and this sedimentation may be greatly assisted by the use once or twice per year, of about two pounds of crystal alum and about one pound of slaked lime. The alum will tend to decolorize water derived from shingle roofs. The filter sand when clogged and dirty may be removed by withdrawing the loose bricks shown at the bottom of the well. Removal of sand will probably not be necessary more than once in two or three years.

Figure No. 2 shows another form of cistern with filter. In this case the filter is in a separate structure and is more costly to build, but is somewhat more positive in its action and more readily accessible for cleaning and repairs. A filter such as this will require scraping to a depth of about one-half inch once or twice per year. When the sand is reduced to a foot in thickness by repeated scrapings it must be replenished. The sand used should be clean and coarse. A small quantity of alum and lime may be used as with the other arrangement, but will probably not be found necessary to secure a perfectly clear water.

Substantial Construction.
The illustrations depict rather substantial construction suited to almost any kind of excavation, but cheaper construction suited to smaller sizes, such for example, as one inch plastered walls on the sides of the excavation have given reasonable satisfaction. The fundamental consideration in any case is water tightness, otherwise a large proportion of the water will be lost.

The cistern with filters shown on Figures 1 and 2 are estimated to cost $300 and $400 respectively. The much cheaper construction of plastered walls and using two cisterns of equivalent size and of the same wall type would be about $200.

parts by weight is a good one for pregnant ewes.

Economy and efficiency are what the owner must think of when compounding rations. Stalk feeds as linseed oil meal and bran are usually costly and hence when placed in the ration add to the condition of maintaining the flock. If the flock can be kept in good condition with less expensive feeds than oil meal and bran it would be better not to use them. In most cases it is possible to keep pregnant ewes in desirable condition by feeding oats, corn, and some leguminous roughage, as clover, alfalfa hay, soybean or cowpea hay. Indeed, it is often unnecessary to feed any grain when these roughages are available. Should it be desirable to make use of less nutritious roughages rather low in protein, as oat or wheat straw, then it is advisable to put easily digested feeds of high protein content in the concentrate part of the ration. It is better, too, because owing to many demands made upon them, ewes with lambs at side should have nutritious, easily digested feeds.

Silage a good feed for pregnant ewes? Of late years this question is frequently asked, and as yet we are unprepared to give a definite answer. However, the writer believes it is a good feed if certain precautions are observed in making it and feeding it. Silage for breeding ewes should be made from pretty well matured corn. For example, most of the grain on the ears should be denting. In the process of making, the corn should be cut very fine and distributed and tramped in the silo so that there will be a minimum of mouldy silage. Care should be taken in feeding not to feed any mouldy or frozen silage. And finally silage should not be fed in excess. For ewes weighing about 150 pounds 1.5 to 2.0 pounds per head per day is enough, although it may be possible to feed more with safety. At the same time the ewes should get some palatable roughage and grain, if the latter is necessary to keep them in proper condition.

Silage Good for Ewes.

Because of its succulence silage should have a useful place in the ration of pregnant ewes, especially when no green feed is the fields is available. For one reason or another there are nearly always such times; therefore the owner who has a silo should endeavor to make silage which can be fed to ewes with safety.

Pregnant ewes should have exercise each day. It is best if it is taken at their own inclination, but if they are not inclined to take exercise, they will derive some benefit from being driven from 15 to 30 minutes at a moderate pace. Toward the close of the period of pregnancy ewes may become so clumsy and heavy on their feet that they are not inclined to take exercise. A good way to induce them to move about is to scatter their hay, straw, or stover thinly over the ground for a considerable distance. In their desire for feed they traverse the ground over which it is spread several times, and thus take their exercise naturally. Another scheme is to have a feed lot some distance from the place where the ewes stay the greater part of the time and to give them a little feed in this lot each day. They go to and from this lot of their own accord and hence get exercise in a manner which is beneficial to them. All violent exercise should be avoided, particularly after their pregnant condition becomes apparent. Few things can be more disastrous to the prospective lamb crop than to have the ewes chased by dogs. The effect of such an experience are abortion and defective lambs. It is a mistake to allow pregnant ewes to walk through deep, stiff mud. In so doing there is danger of straining to such an extent that abortions may result. The same thing may occur if ewes are made to jump over obstacles, or if they are allowed to crowd through narrow doors.

Protection From Rains.

It is necessary to protect pregnant ewes from the cold rains of autumn and winter. Many people make the mistake of not housing their ewes until they have become wet, i. e., until practically all the damage has been done. As soon as it begins to rain they should be driven to shelter and kept there until the storm is over. Snow, unless very wet and heavy, does little harm to the ewes as it collects on the surface of their fleeces they shake it off before it melts. As a rule, they like to bed down in a deep, dry snow and generally they may do so without injurious results.

The barn or shed provided for ewes should be well ventilated, but free from strong draughts that blow directly on them. The floors should be dry, and the surrounding lots should be well drained. During the pregnant period there should be no effort to make the shelter warm. With respect to temperature the chief danger lies in making the shelter too warm.

Influence of External Parasites.

Keeping the flock free from external parasites does much toward bettering the woolproduct. They irritate the skin and cause the sheep so much discomfort that they do a great deal of rubbing against fences, barns and racks in an effort to obtain relief. This tangles and breaks the wool and in many cases pulls it out. The fleece is left in a broken condition, which is objected to by the buyer, and it is not possible to tie it up in attractive condition. If the flock is badly infested with ticks, the good appearance of the wool is lessened by the eggs and dead bodies of the parasites, and their presence would lead the buyer to suspicion of the condition of the wool.—W. C. Coffey, in Circular 161, Illinois Experiment Station.

WASTE ADDS MUCH TO LIVING COST

PROBLEM OF DISTRIBUTION IS ONE OF IMPORTANCE TO CON-SUMER.

Has Bearing on the Increasing Cost of Maintaining the Home—Chicago Club Strives to Bring Producer and Consumer Into Correct Relationship—Educational Work Is Necessary.

(By Mrs. Caroline A. Bley, Chairman Pure Food Committee, Chicago
Woman's Club, before the State
Horticultural Society at the University of Illinois).

As women are the spenders, so women must solve the problem of cheaper, cleaner food.

It comes close home to each one of us in the city when prices are so high that we cannot afford to buy, while we know that good food is rotting in the ground in your gardens and orchards because you cannot afford to gather and ship it. I am glad to be here and to have even the smallest part in the discussion of this important question—the distribution of farm products.

The Chicago Clean Food club, with which I am connected, has been working along this line, but before producers and consumers can be brought together in complete harmony there must be a great educational campaign which will arouse both parties to the wrong economic conditions and the wasteful methods now in operation.

The club to which I refer was organized primarily for the purpose of securing the enforcement of our food sanitation laws, but we have also done something toward securing fair prices for certain foods.

Last winter about this time 300 or a few letters from people advising us to attend to our own business, but as all these letters were anonymous we had not the pleasure of telling their writers that we are attending strictly to our own business.

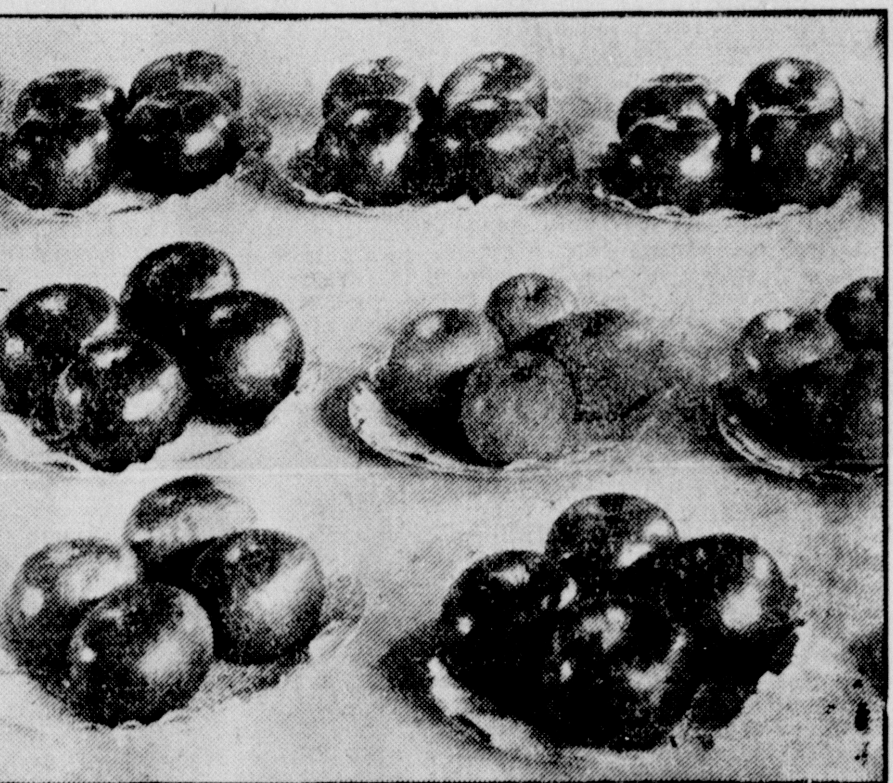

People generally have been attracted to the situation and some more economic way of doing business is sure to follow.

Last year we found that millions of barrels and boxes of apples were stored in the United States—more than had ever been stored before, and yet people were not buying apples and there was a possibility, even a probability, of large quantities being thrown away in the spring.

In order to avoid this great economic waste and to help the consumer at the same time, the president of the Clean Food club invited retailers' organizations in Chicago to meet with the managers of the club to arrange for an apple sale. At this meeting a definite wholesale and retail price, the quality and variety of fruit to be sold, was agreed upon, and other arrangements made for a sale to take place February 6 and 7, through the medium of the retail grocers. The Chicago papers advertised it widely and circulars were distributed among the women's clubs.

Apple Sale Satisfactory.

Several thousand barrels and many boxes of apples were sold. A few grocers took advantage of the occasion to get rid of poor apples and throw the blame on the club women, and a few commission men sold second grade fruit, when they had agreed to sell only No. 1 stock, but on the whole the sale was "on the square" and very satisfactory to all concerned. The people had plenty of apples at half the price which they had been paying, the decrease in price so increased the consumption that commission men were able to dispose of their large holdings at a profit and the retail grocers felt the good effects of the sale for months afterward in the increased demand for apples.

PRIZE WINNING ILLINOIS APPLES.

This group of apples, grown by Mr. C. E. X. Smith of near Galesburg, won the sweepstakes for the best collection of not more than fifteen varieties at the recent exhibit of the Illinois State Horticultural Society at the State University.

more club women stopped their Christmas preparations and sold eggs in 25 stations located in different parts of Chicago.

Power of Organization.

At that time the storage houses were full of eggs and the wholesale price was low, conditions due to the prejudice against storage eggs, hence this method of getting them to the people at a uniform price of 24c per dozen was adopted. The price of eggs was lowered, but the most important results of the sale were educational, as they were meant to be. People learned that April eggs properly stored are the best eggs to be obtained in any quantity in midwinter. They also learned that they had been paying for fresh eggs and getting storage eggs, and incidentally the power of organized consumers was demonstrated.

This year conditions are quite different; fewer eggs were stored and those that were stored seem to have gotten into the hands of speculators and extortionate prices were asked. For this reason the Chicago Clean Food club started a boycott on storage eggs, for which the farmers received about 18c per dozen in the spring and which were stored and insured for not more than 2c per dozen. With these facts in mind 32c per dozen retail seemed a fair price, so that price was demanded by the club women. This action was enforced by nearly all the women's clubs in and around Chicago, and the marked decrease in the consumption of eggs was soon felt by the trade and the price lowered.

The discussion in the newspapers has brought out the fact that usually six men handle eggs before they reach the city consumer; namely, the farmer, the country store keeper, the shipper, the commission man, the jobber and the retail grocer. You see that the egg business is already highly specialized and the tendency is toward greater specialization.

Farmers Want to Deal Direct.

When the postman brought me an armful of mail the other day he remarked that it pays to advertise, and so it does; hundreds of letters have been received from farmers and others who want to deal directly with consumers. True we have had

PLANTS SECURE ALL WATER
THROUGH ROOTS FROM SOIL.

Absorption Does Not Take Place
Through Leaves—Dew Largely
Derived From Plant Tissues—
Results From General Rotation of Water and Temperature.

(By Dr. T. J. Burrill, University of Illinois).

Last week's article spoke of the necessity of having a dust mulch in order to preserve moisture.

Let us turn our attention this week to considerations of more general character, to the general rotation of water and temperature and the vegetative response through hereditary influences to seasonal changes.

First, let it be clearly understood that all agricultural and horticultural plants obtain all the water they use through the roots from the soil. Because vegetation during a dry time revives at night and potted plants are sometimes seen to recover from a wilted condition by merely sprinkling the tops, it is still supposed by some people that water may be absorbed by leaves, that dew may become of service in this way, and that even a moist air may yield to foliage in part at least the necessary supply. Leaves are marvelously fitted to offer exposure of thin expanded tissues to dry air without undue loss of water, but they have nothing in their wonderful mechanism, which must excite the interest and even amazement of any one who sufficiently studies it, all directed to permit free exposure without escape of moisture, the fact is all thin leaves in healthy condition lose more or less water all the time, day and night, in dry weather and in moist weather. The amount depends very greatly upon atmospheric conditions, from surprisingly large quantities when the moving air contains little moisture to perhaps very small amounts where there is no wind, and when approach to complete saturation takes place. Still even with the latter conditions water showing as dew is derived from the inner tissues of the leaves rather than condensed as popularly supposed from the moisture content of the surrounding air. Dew on leaves is not commonly seen in the daytime after the morning hours are past, simply and only because the moisture continually outgoing from the leaf surface is carried away in the air instead of condensing as drops upon them. Anybody can see dew form on leaves in the daytime by simply placing a glass vessel of any kind over a potted plant. For this purpose nothing is better than corn seedlings with two or three developing leaves. If these are in good growing condition moisture will soon be seen condensing on the surface of the glass and later shining droplets appear along the edges and at the tips of the leaves where it may be found on closer inspection the leaf veins terminate. There is condensation here from without. The moisture accumulating on the glass comes from the plant, as the droplets of water so noticeable on the leaves.

Dew From Plant Tissues.

It may indeed happen that moisture from saturated air sometimes condenses on green leaves as upon other things, but we know as dew is largely derived from the plant tissues themselves to which it is furnished only by the roots.

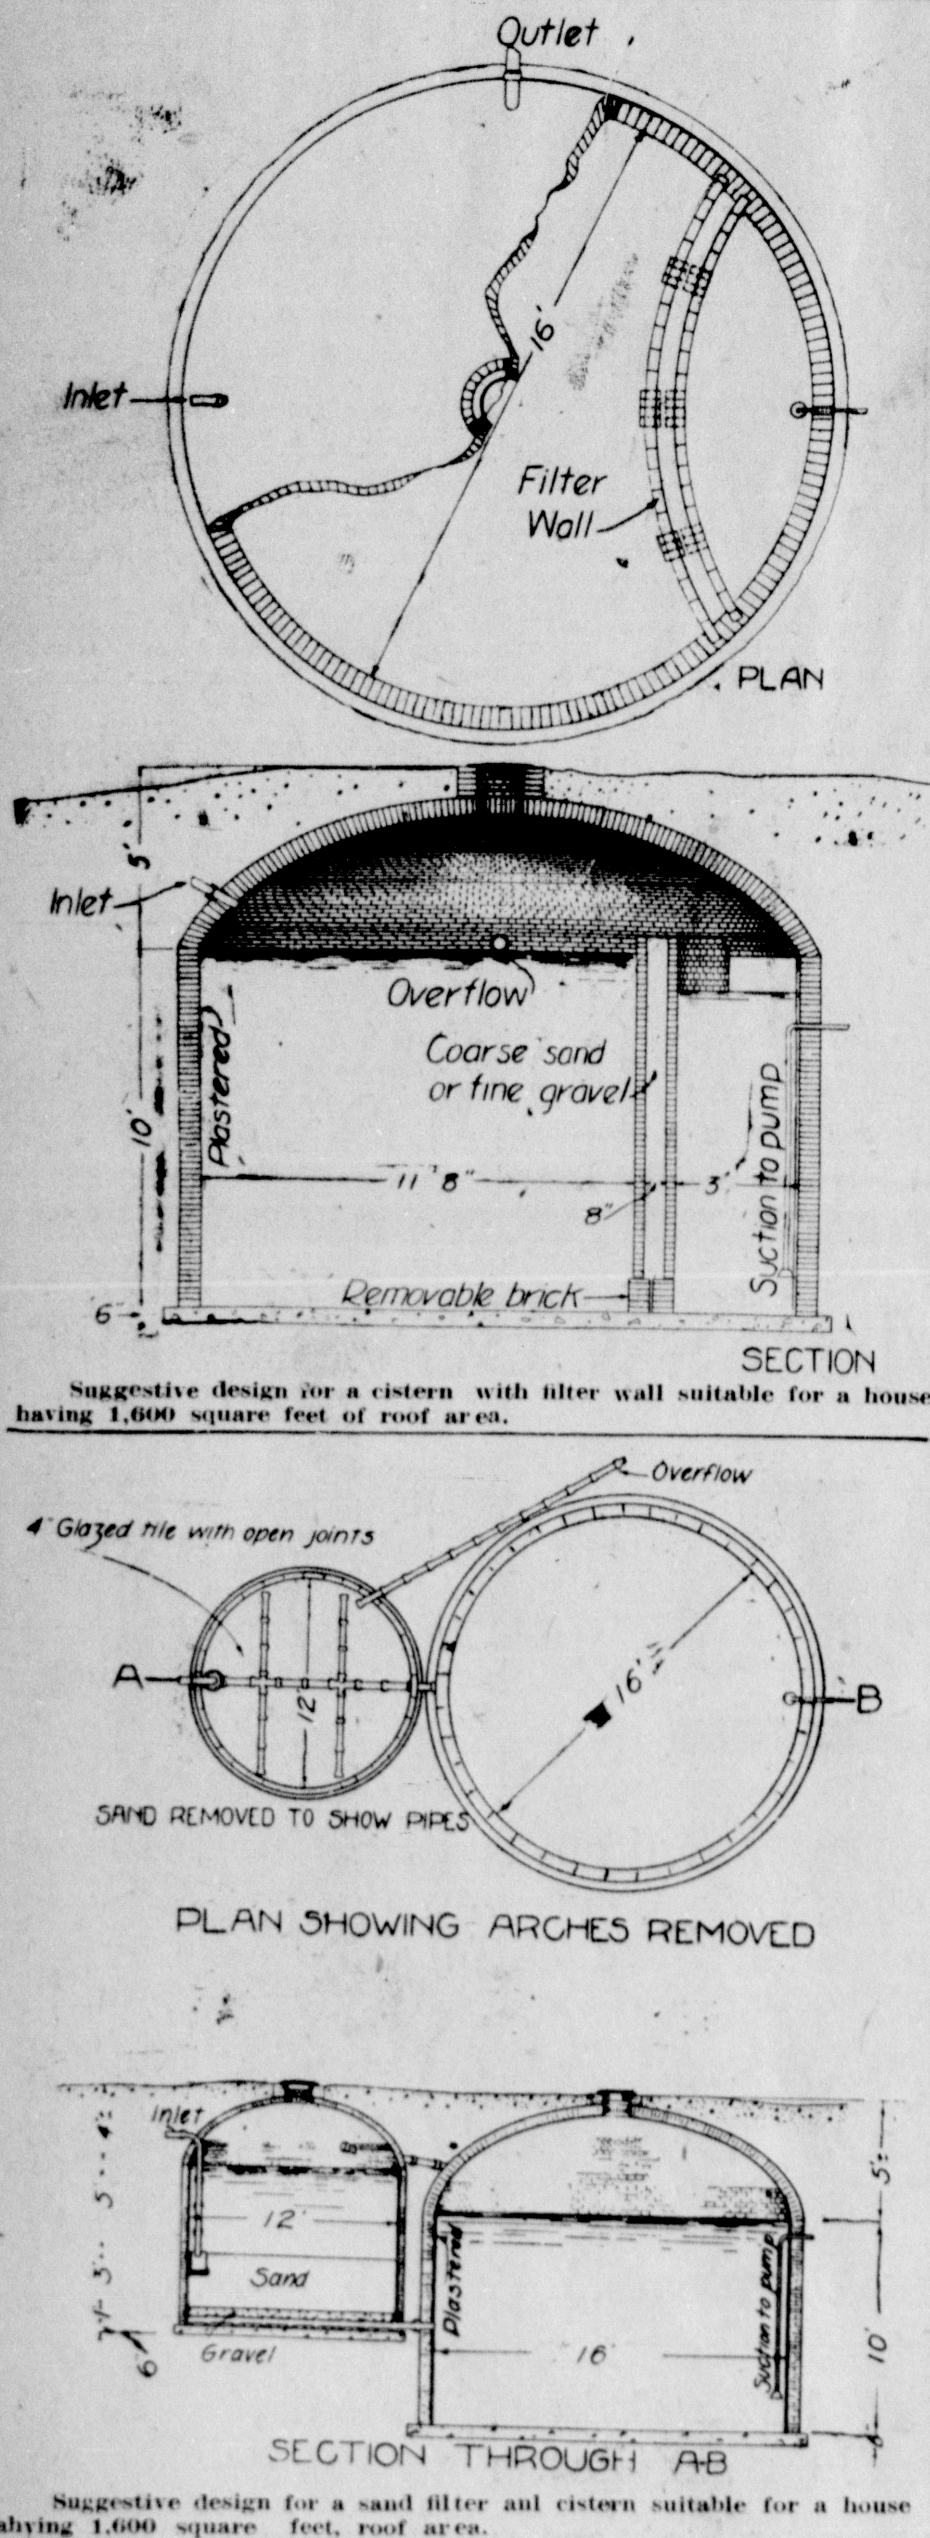

The latter are very efficient organs, sharply and widely different in structure and function from leaves. Their most important office is to absorb. Doubtless we might coin a word that would better represent their process. The roots of field and garden plants are not fitted to deal with water in the liquid state. These plants suffer when there is free water in the soil.

What Roots Do.

The water contained in soil suitable for plant support is in the solid state, its particles adherent to those of the soil, and not free moving. It is the office of roots to pull off from the soil grains these adherent molecules of water and the molecules of other nutrient substances along with them and after such separation to send them along also by molecular forces and movements, not in streaming currents, upward in spite of gravity towards and ultimately to the leaves. This is the source of the water, and the only source, which escapes from the leaves as well as of that which is utilized otherwise by the plant. The supply must fully make up the loss or the plant suffers. As soon as a plant begins to wilt injury occurs. Growth ceases. If the exhaustion goes too far death follows.

about 48 hours. If five to ten drops formalin is added to each pail of water it will kill the spores of mold and insure a clean, sweet feed. After soaking the oats are spread out an inch thick on trays which are placed in a sprouting rack, where they may be kept at a temperature of 60 to 80 degrees. In from seven to ten days they will have developed sprouts from three to four inches long, as well as a great root system, and the entire mass is very succulent and tender.—From Farm and Home.

This is the season to plan the farm yard planting.

Suggestive design for a sand filter and cistern suitable for a house having 1,600 square feet, roof area.

cause they are not made large enough and second because no effective effort is made to keep the water clean. In regions like the central west where only "hard" water can be obtained from wells, the soft rain water is of inestimable value for laundry and general domestic purposes and any farmer's wife will welcome any means whereby this water may be obtained in greater abundance and free from objectionable color and dirt. With increased use of modern plumbing on the farm there results a freer use of water, which is an additional reason why the cistern water supply should be augmented and improved.

The average annual rainfall for the central west may be conservatively stated as 30 inches. With a properly constructed cistern and the roof gutters and down spouts in good repair, it should be possible to conserve practically this entire amount, for in the country districts where there is but little soft coal smoke there need be no wastage for flushing roofs, especially if suitable filter-ties for catching the water from the roof of the barn and other buildings. Use specially favorable conditions small suitably protected areas at the ground surface may be used as catchment areas. By thus increasing the available supply and correspondingly increasing the size or number of cisterns, it is possible to meet all demands for household purposes with soft cistern water alone, and pumping as well as the use of thereby eliminating double piping and pumping as well as the use of hard water. When developing a rain water supply to meet all domestic needs an allowance of 25 gallons per person per day should be made and a half year's storage should be provided.

Figure No. 1 shows a cistern with a simple yet reasonably satisfactory form of filter. The filter consists of a double brick wall with vertical joints cemented and horizontal joints laid dry. Between the two walls is a space 8 inches wide filled with very coarse sand or fine gravel. The

RECEIVES CARNEGIE

HERO MEDAL
At the time of the disastrous fire which destroyed the Lindsay building on North Main street, Moses C.
Large, a man with a wooden leg,
rushed into the burning building and rescued a woman from the flames. There is now at Alcott's drug store a Carnegie hero medal, the property of Mr. Large and he will also receive a home worth $1-000.

On one side is a medallion of Mr.
Carnegie and on the other side are the words:
"Awarded to Moses C. Large who saved Margaret Miller from burning,
Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 18, '10."
In a circle: "Greater love hath no man than this that a man lay down his life for his friends."
Naturally Mr. Large is much pleased with the gift.

WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

TRADING IS DULL AND PRICE CHANGES ARE UNIMPORTANT

First Day of New Year On the Stock Market Is Devoid of More Than Passing Significance—Early Gains Wiped Out In Final Hours.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The first day of the new year on the stock market was devoid, on the surface, of more than passing significance.
During the greater part of the session trading was dull, and price changes in the main were unimportant though with a higher tendency.
In the final hour a selling movement of moderate proportions wiped out most of the early gains, sending the general level under Wednesday's final quotations.

Domestic advice was favorable for the most part, trade reports being of optimistic tenor, except for steel and iron. Europe's markets seemed in a less easy state than our own, with weakness in the Paris.
There was some foreign selling,
chiefly of Canadian Pacific, Steel and the coppers.

A rise in call money to 10 per cent served as a reminder that local monetary conditions leave something to be desired and some harder for time money in the longer maturities was reported.

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND FUNERAL SERVICES FOR JAMES T. KING

Ceremony at Late Residence on West State Street is Brief—Interment Made in Diamond Grove.

Funeral services for James T. King were held at the late residence 1947 West State street, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends, who had gathered to pay a last tribute of respect. The service was simple and brief and was conducted by Rev. Clyde Darsie, pastor of Central Christian church, and Rev. J. D. French, pastor of State Street Presbyterian church. Rev. Mr. French offered prayer and the scripture lesson from the fourteenth chapter of St. John was read by Rev. Mr. Darsie. Miss Mabel Mathews sang a solo, "Some Day, Some Time," and she and Mr. John L. Johnson sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul." Miss Inez Huckleby acted as accompanist.

There was a large number of beautiful flowers, including a number of sprays, which were cared for by Mrs. E. E. Crabtree, Mrs. E. E. Farrell, Mrs. W. L. Fay, Mrs. A. M. Masters, Mrs. W. B. Brown, Sr., and Mrs. P. J. Waddell.

Interment was made in Diamond Grove cemetery and the active bearers were Dr. A. M. King, E. E. Crabtree, C. C. Phelps, F. J. Andrews, A. M. Masters, Edward Brown, J. Marshall Miller and Harrison King. The honorary bearers were: L. W. Chambers, Gates Strawn, C. H. Russell, George S. Gay, W. L. Fay, Dr. W. W. Schermerhorn, Dr. T. J. Pither and W. E. Veitch.

DECIDE TO DROP OPPOSITION. Chicago, Jan. 2.—The Illinois Manufacturers' association today decided to drop its opposition to an increase in freight rates and in a resolution to the inter-state commerce commission recommended that a five per cent increase be permitted in official classification territory. The action was the result of a report of a special committee which has investigated railroad conditions and announced that shippers might better stand the increase in rates than suffer an impairment of service that might follow a refusal to raise rates.

He was 91 years of age.

FIGURES GIVEN ON U. S. FOREIGN COMMERCE

Excess of Exports Over Imports in 1913 Greater Than For Any Previous Year—Increase in Food Stuffs Chiefly in Wheat, Corn and Bacon.

The foreign commerce of the United States in the calendar year 1913 approximated 1½ billion dollars of imports and 2½ billion of exports. The imports of the eleven months ended with November were 1,609 million, and should the December imports equal those of November, the total would be $2,497,000,000. This estimate would make the excess of exports over imports approximately 740 million dollars.

The figures of exports and of excess of exports over imports will exceed those of any earlier year. The largest export in any preceding calendar year was that of 1912, which showed a total of $2,399,217,993, and as the eleven months ended with November are 102 million in excess of the corresponding period of the preceding year, the estimate of approximately 2½ billion for 1913 seems to be justified. The excess of exports over imports in the eleven months ended with November was 642 million dollars, and for the single month of November 97 million, thus apparently justifying the estimate of 740 millions excess of exports for the full year.

In imports the total for 1913 will be less than that of 1912 but larger than that of any year preceding 1912. This decline in imports in 1913 is due in part to reduction in prices of certain articles imported. While the quantity of sugar imported in the ten months ended with October exceeded that of the corresponding period of 1912 by 3.8 million pounds, the value of this larger quantity imported during the 1913 period was 22 million dollars less than that of the corresponding period of 1912.

Coffee imports are much below those of 1912, the figures for the ten months ended with October, 1913, being 635 million pounds, against 752 million in the same period of last year and the value but 80 million dollars, against 104 million in the corresponding months of last year. Tea shows a fall in imports of 1½ million dollars in value. Manufacturers' materials show, as a group, a decline of about 5 per cent when compared with the corresponding period of last year, this being due, in part, to a reduction in prices and, in some instances, a reduction in quantity. Imports of crude rubber, for example, show for the ten months ended with October a reduction of a little over 1 million pounds in quantity, but a reduction of 16 million dollars in value. Copper imports show an increase in quantity over the corresponding period of last year, both in ore and in the group, pigs, bars, old and ingots. Raw silk shows a marked increase in the quantity imported in 1913 when compared with '12, the total number of pounds of raw silk as reeled from the cocoons imported in the ten months ended with October, 1913, being 22 1-3 million, against 19½ million in the corresponding months of last year. Of leaf tobacco the imports in the ten months of 1913 were 53 million pounds, against 888 million in the corresponding months of last year; and of wood pulp, 891 million pounds, against 888 million in the corresponding months of the preceding year. In hides, raw cotton, and wool the imports of the ten months of 1913 are materially below those of the corresponding months of 1912. Manufacturers for further use in manufacturing imported showed a marked increase in 1913 compared with 1912, the figures for the ten months ended with October being 288 million dollars, against 262 million in the same months of 1912. Crude materials ready for consumption show a very slight increase—333 2-3 million dollars, against 333 million in the corresponding months of the preceding year.

On the export side crude foodstuffs and manufacturers' materials show a marked increase, crude foodstuffs showing for the ten months ended with October, 1913, a total of 159½ million dollars, against 98½ million in the same months of the preceding year; and foodstuffs partly or wholly manufactured, 266½ million dollars, against 246½ million in the same months of 1912. Manufacturers for further use in manufacturing exported amounted to 339 million dollars in the ten months ended with October last, against 320½ million in the corresponding period of the preceding year, and manufacturers ready for consumption, 659 million dollars, against 607 million in the corresponding months of the preceding year.

The increase in foodstuffs exported occurs chiefly in wheat, corn, barley, oats, flour, bacon, and lard. The increase in manufacturers exported occurs chiefly in automobiles, railway cars, electric machinery, manufactures of iron and steel, lumber, copper, and mineral oil.

MORTUARY

Frank.
Mrs. A. T. Sweringer Friday received a message announcing the death of her mother, Mrs. Sarah A. Frank at her home at Bedford, Pike county. Mrs. Frank was born in Greene county, near Carrollton, March 15th, 1825. Her name prior to her marriage being Sarah Ann Boyer. Her mother having died, while still a mere child she aided her father in caring for the five smaller children. Dec. 27, 1848 the deceased was married to Levi J. Frank and six children were born to them, three dying in infancy. Those surviving are Mrs. T. H. Stuart of White Hall; Mrs. H. Wise of Milton and Mrs. A. T. Sweringer of the city. Mrs. Frank had been a member of the Methodist church practically all of her life and was a devoted attendant as long as her health would permit. Her husband died in 1898.

The funeral will be held at the late home of the deceased Sunday morning at ten o'clock.

Mahoney.
Mrs. Florence Mahoney died at her home in Peoria Friday morning according to word received here by friends. Her maiden name was Divine and she was well along in years. Her husband died 2 years ago. For a number of years the family resided in Jacksonville. She is survived by two daughters, Anna and Mayme of Peoria, one son Edwin of Peoria, one brother, L. A. Devine and one sister, Kate Devine, both of Omaha, Neb.

The remains will arrive this morning from Peoria over the C. P. & St. L., following funeral services in Peoria. Interment will be made in Calvary cemetery.

JOINT INCOME TAX.
John L. Pickering, of Springfield, Collector of Internal Revenue in this district has received from the treasury department at Washington a decision bearing on the income tax that is of interest in a domestic way. It holds that where a man and wife are in receipt of separate incomes of which the total is more than $4,000 per annum a return must be made. Either of the parties may make the return to the collector. In this case the law only applies where the separate income of the persons is more than $3,000.

DISASTROUS FIRE.
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 2.—Fire that originated in the building of a cloak company destroyed that building, gutted a book company's store, damaged the stock of a drygoods firm. The loss is estimated at $300,000.

FUNERALS

Arpe.
Funeral services for Mrs. Anne Catherine Arpe were held at Salem Lutheran church Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. J. G. Kuppler, pastor of the church. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends and music for the service was furnished by Mrs. Robert Stice. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Richard Koepfing. Interment was made in Jacksonville cemetery and the bearers are William Batz, Chris Henze, William Luken, Philip Schultz, Louis Zimmer and Frank Pechloff.

Dawson.
The funeral of Mrs. Anne Elizabeth Dawson was conducted at the Gillham undertaking establishment Friday morning at 10 o'clock in charge of Rev. Clyde Darsie, pastor of Central Christian church. Music was furnished by Miss Cora Graham, Mrs. Wallace Brockman, Rev. Mr. Darsie and W. W. Gillham. The flowers were cared for by friends. Interment was made in Jacksonville cemetery and the bearers were: D. W. Osborne, George Harney, Charles W. Johnson, W. T. Clarkson, William Evans and James Watt.

Fanning.
The funerals of Lawrence Fanning, who was accidentally killed at Gillespie, Ill., was held from the home of his mother, Mrs. Wilson Whitlock, near Nortonville, Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. Newton Antrobus, of Manchester officiating. There was a large attendance and the services were impressive in character.

Music was furnished by Mrs. David Wilson, Mrs. Pine Tribble, S. A. Bracewell and T. Beadles, with Miss Eula Wilson as organist. The beautiful flowers were cared for by Misses Ethel and Hazel Jackson, Ruth and Mary Fanning, Virgil Sheppard, Edith Kehl.

Burial was made in the Whitlock cemetery and young men who were employed at the car shops in Gillespie, where Mr. Whitlock worked acted as bearers.

WITH SICK PEOPLE.

Miss Kathleen Walsh of Hardin avenue is a patient at Our Savior's hospital.

"Grandma" Vieira is very low at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Lulu Nunes, 908 Allen avenue. Miss Leila Berryman, who has been sick at her home on North Prairie street, returned Friday to her work at Montgomery & Deppes.

Mrs. J. H. Butler, who has been seriously ill at Dr. Day's hospital, is convalescing.

W. I. Tilton, a teacher at the state school for the deaf is a patient at Our Savior's hospital. He underwent an operation Thursday for an abscess on his shoulder, as the result of a throat affection. He is doing nicely.

Miss Fay Stevenson is ill at her home on Allen avenue.

An excellent time now to get a winter suit; Knoles has rare bargains.

MRS. REXROAT REGAINS MUFF
Mrs. Amanda K. Rexroat of South Diamond street is again in possession of the muff she lost several days ago in one of the ten cent stores and which she discovered afterwards in the hands of a colored woman on the south side of the square. The woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Sallie McDaniels said first that the muff was a Thanksgiving gift, but later told Mrs. Rexroat that it was a Christmas present. When brought up in Squire Dyer's court Friday on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Rexroat, the colored woman said that she had purchased the muff from a white man for a dollar. Her story didn't seem to hold together and Squire Dyer ordered the return of the article to Mrs. Rexroat after which he dismissed the case.

QUESTION AS TO FATE OF RALPH LOPEZ UNANSWERED

BINGHAM, Utah, Jan. 2.—The question as to the fate of Ralph Lopez, murderer of six men for whom search was resumed today in the Utah-Apex mine is unanswered tonight. Before the portals were sealed on December 14, miners' lunch baskets filled with poisoned food were left where the desperado might find them. They were recovered by the searching parties today untouched.

Determined to solve the secret of its maze of passageways as soon as possible, a fresh posse was sent into the workings tonight by Sheriff Smith, who will keep up the search until every foot has been gone over.

NEW ALTON TIME CARD IS EFFECTIVE NEXT SUNDAY

Several Changes Are Noted In the Arrival and Departure of Trains—Improvements Reported on Western Division.

A new time card has been announced by the Chicago & Alton, which goes into effect next Sunday. There are several changes noted as to the time of arrival and departure of trains, but nothing of a very radical character. The Hummer will remain as it is now and there will be no change in the south bound passenger, which leaves here at 3:55. The 8:45 north bound will leave three quarters of an hour later. While it has not been officially announced, it is understood that there are to be made some improvements in the Western Division.

The following are the changes locally:

South Bound.

No. 31, will depart at 6:30 instead of 6 o'clock a. m.

No. 15 (Kansas City Train) will leave at 10:42 instead of old time 10:25 a. m.

No. 71—Leaves at 8:20 p. m. instead of 8:45 p. m.

No. 33—Leaves at 3:55 p. m. (no change).

North Bound.

No. 10—Hummer leaves at usual time 2 p. m.

No. 70.—This train has been changed to No. 78. It will leave at 7 a. m., instead of 6:45.

No. 32—This train has been reaching here at 12:15, but will arrive under new card at 12:30 p. m. and will leave at old time 1:40 p. m.

No. 16—Usual time, 5:30 p. m.

No. 30—Train which reached here at 8:45 p. m. will arrive at 9:30 p. m.
